The Neuland Promise

In the pharmaceutical industry, quality, safety, and sustainability are the cornerstones of differentiation. Partners who uphold uncompromising standards, ensure safe processes, and adopt environmentally responsible practices earn long-term trust. These principles drive customer loyalty and form the bedrock of sustained success.

The Neuland Promise
Built on earned trust and proven reliability.

Quality and customer-centricity have always been foundational to the Company, alongside an unwavering emphasis on integrity and safety.

As we continue to evolve in anticipation of customer needs, our core beliefs and business fundamentals remain firmly intact, guiding every step forward.

We improved our first-time-right performance on product scale-ups, enhanced project governance, and strengthened cross-functional execution. Our Unit-III was awarded the prestigious Sword of Honour by the British Safety Council – a distinction earned by few. We continued to build a strong compliance track record, completing regulatory and customer audits with no critical observations.

We strengthened our ESG performance and Neuland was featured in S&P's Sustainability Yearbook for a second year, placing us among a select group of Indian companies in the Pharma/Biotech/Lifesciences services domain. These recognitions are not endpoints, rather form a baseline to further embed this philosophy across the organisation, from leadership to the very last person.

This promise comes to life through our strategy. We are investing in technologies that matter to our customers and set us apart. We are focussed on operational excellence, deeper customer partnerships, and digital transparency. We are building a world-class talent pipeline and expanding into high-value, complex therapeutic spaces.

And all of this is underpinned by a refreshed vision – creating a healthier world – and values that shape how we think, work, and lead: innovation, transparency, agility, accountability, and empathy.

Because at Neuland, how we deliver matters just as much as what we deliver.

This is how we create value. This is how we build for the future.

OUR VISION AND VALUES

At Neuland, we have refreshed our Vision and Values to reflect on who we are today and where we are headed. These statements align with our transformation journey – creating a healthier world not just today, but for decades to come.

Our Vision
– Creating a Healthier World

> Our vision is to create a healthier world through sustainable practices, trusted partnerships, and agile collaboration.

We partner with leading innovators to create breakthroughs that address unmet medical needs. We also work with companies to improve access to essential drugs, reducing costs and broadening availability. In addition, we contribute to a healthier world through practices that benefit our employees, suppliers, the environment, and communities – including initiatives spanning governance, biodiversity, women's empowerment, and rural development.

CORE PILLARS OF OUR VISION

Sustainable Practices | Trusted Partnerships | Agile Collaboration

It Starts with Sustainability

The path to our mission begins with sustainability, viewed through a broad lens. Corporate sustainability must encompass both environmental stewardship and long-term business viability – and the good news is that these goals are compatible. For example, by designing flexible, multi-product manufacturing plants, we reduce the need for new construction, conserving resources and saving costs.

Operationally, we are reducing waste and emissions, guided by external audits, while promoting a safe, positive workplace. We collaborate with suppliers to embed sustainable practices across the value chain, ensuring a resilient supply chain that supports our operations and customers.

Rooting Partnerships in Trust

Partnerships are integral to our model as a provider of APIs and contract manufacturing services. Achieving our vision of supporting patients begins with our customers – by earning their trust, collaborating as partners, and consistently delivering high-quality products.

Strong relationships with suppliers ensure consistent input quality, while transparent governance builds investor confidence. Employees are also important partners – aware that their work affects patient health and outcomes directly.

Agility and Collaboration

Agility and collaboration are embedded in our culture. Our ability to respond swiftly to changing customer needs enables the development of new therapies in partnership with global pharmaceutical leaders. This agility ensures customer success and drives our mission forward.

Our Values
– The Neuland Way

> Our new Vision is grounded in five core values that define our culture and approach:

Innovation | Transparency | Agility | Accountability | Empathy

Innovative in Everything We Do

In a pharmaceutical development company like ours, innovation is foundational. Our scientists and engineers continuously refine chemical pathways, create alternative manufacturing processes, and address complex specifications. Creative problem-solving is at the heart of their work.

But innovation goes beyond R&D. It improves efficiency across departments – whether in finance, HR, or marketing – and helps us remain forward-looking in a fast-evolving industry.

Transparent and Open in Our Communication

Transparency permeates every layer of our operations. It fosters external trust with customers and investors, and strengthens internal bonds among teams. By openly sharing setbacks, we nurture a culture of problem-solving. Constructive feedback helps us grow and collaborate more effectively.

Agile in Our Execution

Agility is a reflection of our customer-centric approach. Instead of doing what's convenient, we prioritise customer needs – working collaboratively to deliver tailored, first-time-right solutions. Our robust planning enables us to pivot quickly when needed, ensuring we meet and exceed expectations.

Accountable for Our Delivery

Accountable underpins all our values. It ensures precise alignment between corporate strategy, team goals, and individual responsibilities. Every team member plays a vital role in our success.

Accountability is a reflection of our integrity and commitment to excellence – doing the right thing and upholding best-in-class standards.

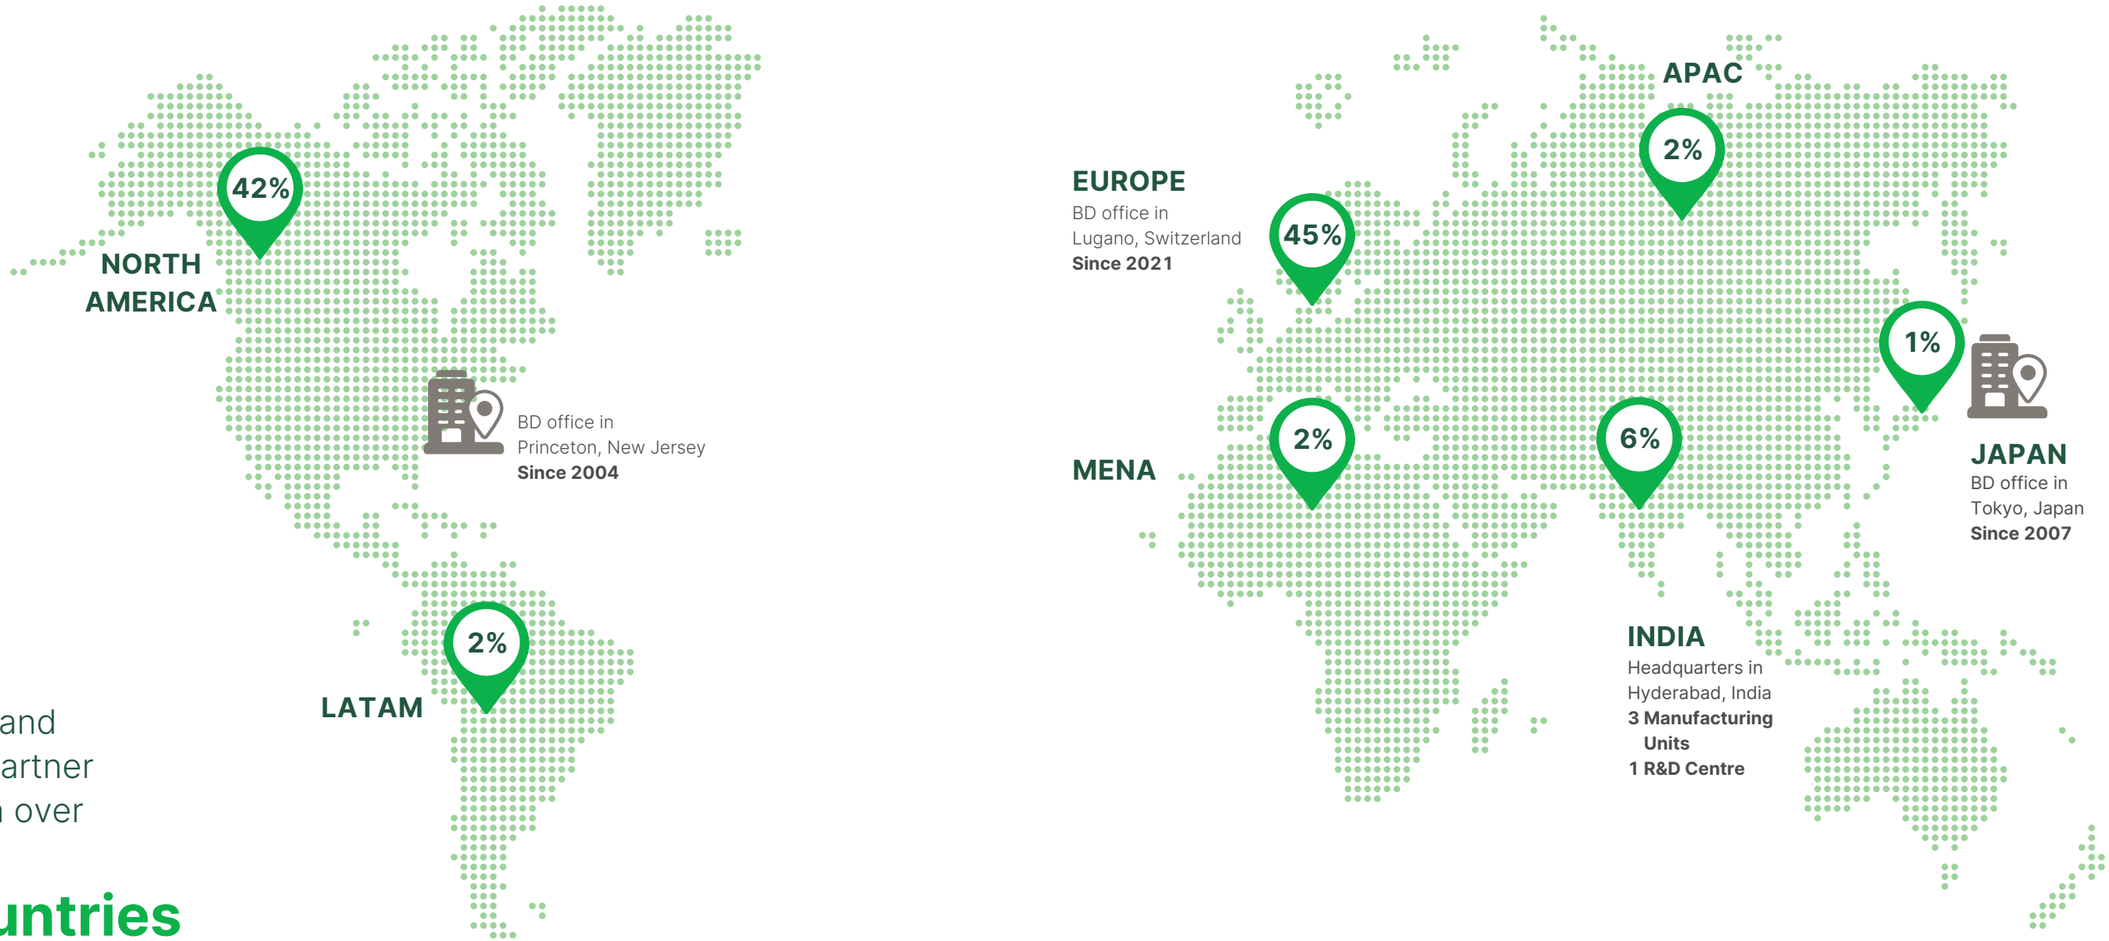

Empathy in All Our Interactions

In a competitive industry, empathy might seem unexpected – but for us, it's essential. By placing empathy at the heart of our values, we create a culture of care – for customers, colleagues, suppliers, patients, and the planet.

We listen, understand, and respect different perspectives, enabling us to deliver meaningful solutions and build a positive work environment that fosters excellence.

Message
from Executive Chairman

WE CONTINUE TO MAKE PROGRESS ON THE PEOPLE FRONT WITH EMPHASIS ON BUILDING DEPTH IN THE ORGANISATION ALONG WITH A LEADERSHIP TEAM ALIGNED ON THE VISION AND STRATEGY.

THE INVESTMENTS THAT WE ARE MAKING INCLUDING THE LARGE ALLOCATION TO PEPTIDES, DIGITISATION, LAND WILL EQUIP US FOR GROWTH OVER THE NEXT FEW YEARS. WE WILL CONTINUE TO STRATEGICALLY INVEST, EXPAND OUR CAPABILITIES, AND BUILD THE NECESSARY SCALE ACROSS KEY AREAS.

Dear Shareholders,

I am happy to be yet again sharing my thoughts on Neuland's journey and our vision for the future. Like last year I want to give more background which will help you better understand the DNA of Neuland as a company. I started studying chemistry in the university back in 1959 and once I finished my PhD, got residential status in the US, I felt the desire to do something significant back in India. Even as I explored scientific research and academia in India, I realised that the industry was a better place for me to learn as well as contribute. Consequently, I spent ten years with Glaxo across R&D, Manufacturing and Quality which along with my education helped me to understand complex technology as well as what is essential to make high quality products in a GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices) environment. A short stint helping an Indian firm get USFDA approval helped me better understand the challenges of creating a quality focussed company. The desire to contribute, my experiences working in India and the opportunities that I saw for a quality focussed pharmaceutical organisation led to my founding of Neuland. That entrepreneurial vision of a quality focussed pharmaceutical company in India has been the driving force behind the foundation and the running of Neuland over the last 4 decades. This background helped me to put in place the values and the principles which have been integral to Neuland as a company. As you know from my past correspondences, Neuland has been founded on principles which I believe are essential to every business and especially in the pharmaceutical industry. Quality and customer-centricity have been foundational to the company with along with the emphasis on integrity, safety, and sustainability. This focus meant that even when the US FDA inspected us for the first time in 1997, we were ready with minimal investments in certain systems as the Unit was built on GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices) compliance from Day One. Even as we continue to evolve in anticipation of the needs of customers, I want to emphasise that our core beliefs and the fundamentals of the business will not change.

The Financial Year 2024-25 was a year of consolidation, something we had anticipated. This was a consequence of the lifecycle of products in our CMS business. We also had certain operational issues which have been resolved as is evident in the successful US FDA audit. This is again a testament to Neuland's strong foundation.

I believe we have strengthened in several ways during the year as we have put in place a clear plan for the next five years and are working towards envisioning a future beyond that. We have a stronger leadership team aligned to Neuland's values as well as our customers' needs. We continue to learn so that we can make our processes better and the organisation more resilient.

During the course of the year, we have been able to get greater clarity on the way forward for Neuland as a company. This is also evident as we shared our vision statement, renewed our values, and clarified our strategic priorities. The investments that we are making including the large allocation to peptides, digitisation, land will equip us for growth over the next few years. We will continue to strategically invest, expand our capabilities, and build the necessary scale across key areas. As always, our view is towards building a long-term sustainable organisation which is delivering unique value to customers.

Another element from our past which I would want to bring up in this context is our limited access to capital for a significant part of our existence. We had started with seed capital from IDBI, with consistent support from SBI over time. For around three decades, we were under the constraint of debt and as well as financial pressure from tackling unhealthy competition in the less regulated markets as we operated cGMP plants. Over time we have been able to transform our portfolio, business, and customer mix; building a client base who value their relationship with Neuland. We have transitioned from selling products to marketing capabilities. We are no longer in a position where we are constrained, and as a management team we are working towards making the right investments which will ensure Neuland continues to be a partner of choice for the industry over the long term.

As I have stated in the past, our people continue to be key to our future. We spend a significant amount of time as a management team on building the organisation for the future. We continue to make progress on the people front with emphasis on building depth in the organisation along with a leadership team aligned on the vision and strategy. We continue to invest in fresh talent and are working on better integration of new joiners across levels into the organization.

At Neuland, we are committed to the highest standards of governance and ethics. We understand how important it is to follow the right laws and regulations, and we know that strong governance and risk management frameworks are key to protecting the interests of everyone involved. From the time Neuland became a public listed entity, we had a strong board with the likes of Mr. Patwardhan (Vice-Chairman & Managing Director of NOCIL) and Mr. Dhanrajgir (Former Vice-Chairman & Managing Director of Glaxo) guiding the company. Our Board over the last three decades has worked hard to keep a balanced mix of skills, capabilities, and diversity. This helps us meet our responsibilities effectively. We regularly review and improve our governance structures, making sure they have the right controls, support good decision-making, and stay aligned with evolving best practices.

Looking ahead, Neuland is positioned for significant growth and aims to be recognised as a leading sustainable option in the pharmaceutical world. Our strategic priorities are in closer alignment with our customers and transforming Neuland into a stronger and more agile entity. Customer centricity remains central to Neuland's intent, and we continue to take actions to serve customers in a sustainable way. Our ongoing investments, robust product pipeline, and formidable reputation in the pharmaceutical sector support our ability to deliver long-term value.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to our customers, bankers, vendors, regulatory authorities, other partners, and fellow board members. I also acknowledge the efforts of our employees for their hard work and dedication. At Neuland, we remain committed to working with all our stakeholders to produce high-quality pharmaceuticals and create a healthier world.

Warm Regards,

Dr. Davuluri Rama Mohan Rao

In Conversation

Sucheth Davuluri
Vice-Chairman and CEO

AS THE WORLD EVOLVES, SO MUST WE. FOR US AS A COMPANY IT IS IMPORTANT TO DEFINE WHO WE ARE AND WHO WE ARE NOT, SO THAT OUR IDENTITY IS CLEAR IN TERMS OF WHAT WE CAN DO AND CANNOT.

OUR GROWTH STRATEGY CONTINUES TO FOCUS ON HIGH-VALUE MOLECULES FROM INNOVATIVE COMPANIES IN THE GDS SPACE AS WELL AS ON WORKING WITH INNOVATORS BRINGING NOVEL THERAPIES TO THE MARKET IN THE CMS BUSINESS.

As I reflect on FY 2024-25 and look ahead to FY 2025-26 and beyond, I remain confident in our ability to build a business that creates long-term value for all stakeholders. Our performance has been shaped by the commitment and resilience of the Neuland team. Their contribution has been central to how we have supported our customers and executed across the organisation. I want to start by sincerely thanking every team member for their hard work and dedication.

As the world evolves, so must we. For us as a company it is important to define who we are and who we are not, so that our identity is very clear in terms of what we can do and cannot. Therefore, we revisited our vision and values to ensure they reflect both who we are today and where we aim to go. Our new vision statement underscores our commitment to creating a healthier world through sustainable practices, trusted partnerships, and agile collaboration.

This vision is anchored in five core values that define how we operate and lead: Innovation empowers teams to solve problems and drive continuous improvement. Transparency fosters open dialogue and constructive feedback. Agility enables us to stay ahead of market shifts and respond with speed. Accountability reflects our integrity and ownership mindset. And Empathy encourages us to embrace diverse perspectives and build a caring culture.

On the financial front, FY 2024-25 was broadly in line with our expectations for a flattish year, as communicated earlier. While performance was muter compared to recent years, the fundamentals of the business remain solid. Total income for the year stood at ₹ 1497.3 crore, compared to ₹ 1,571.1 crore in the previous year, supported by contributions from key commercial CMS and GDS molecules. EBITDA (excluding exceptional items) was ₹ 342.8 crore with a margin of 22.9%, compared to ₹ 474.5 crore last year.

There was a cashflow of ₹ 206.4 crore in capital expenditure as part of our ongoing capacity and capability expansion, while maintaining a disciplined focus on cost and operational efficiency. Free cash flow for the year stood at ₹ 111.0 crore. We also repaid term debt of ₹ 32.9 crore, resulting in a net debt position of negative ₹ 229 crore. Our current ratio improved to 2.4, and ROCE stands at 17.9%, underscoring continued capital efficiency.

Our growth strategy continues to focus on high-value molecules from innovative companies in the GDS space as well as on working with Innovators bringing novel therapies to the market in the CMS business. We are equally committed to enhancing the customer experience, which we believe sets us apart as a differentiated API provider. Although our business is inherently non-linear, we remain confident in the strength of our order pipeline and the depth of customer demand. With continued progress on strategic priorities, we are well-positioned to regain momentum in FY 2025-26. We look to the future with optimism, anchored in sustainable growth through capacity expansion, scientific depth, operational excellence, and business agility.

Q What were some of the key learnings from FY 2024-25, and how has Neuland responded to the challenges faced during the year?

FY 2024-25 was largely in line with our expectations, particularly in the CMS business. The GDS segment, however, faced challenges due to evolving nitrosamine regulations, impacting products such as Ciprofloxacin and Labetalol and leading to some temporary loss in market share.

We used this period to reinforce core systems and invest in long-term capabilities. This included strengthening our quality framework, enhancing the enterprise risk register, and making strategic investments in capacity and talent in line with our FY 2029-30 roadmap. While there were areas where performance could have been stronger, the year helped us sharpen our focus and improve the foundations needed for sustainable, long-term growth.

Q Could you walk us through the key operational highlights for FY 2024-25?

FY 2024-25 was a significant year in terms of operational progress, marked by regulatory milestones and the expansion of scientific and manufacturing capabilities. We filed six USDMFs demonstrating our focus on scientifically complex and commercially relevant APIs.

A major strategic milestone was our formal entry into the peptide API space with the DMF filing for Difelikefalin, allowing us to offer peptides to generic formulators. Peptides represent a high-growth opportunity for Neuland, and we have made substantial investments in scaling up peptide synthesis and purification capabilities. We continue to work on some exciting products for our GDS portfolio including a GLP-1 molecule.

On the regulatory front, we successfully completed a USFDA inspection at Unit-I with zero Form 483 observations and an ANVISA inspection at Unit-II. All three manufacturing sites received ISO 9001:2015 certification, and over 80 customer audits were conducted during the year—none resulting in critical observations—reaffirming the strength and consistency of our quality systems.

Infrastructure expansion also remained a priority. New production blocks were completed at Unit-III, with commercial operations expected to begin in the second half of FY 2025-26, supporting our long-term capacity and growth needs.

TRUST IS ALSO BUILT THROUGH A CONSISTENT TRACK RECORD ON QUALITY, SAFETY, AND SUSTAINABILITY. IN FY 2024-25, OUR UNIT-III, WAS AWARDED THE SWORD OF HONOUR BY THE BRITISH SAFETY COUNCIL, A DISTINCTION THAT POSITIONS US TO ACHIEVE FIVE-STAR SAFETY RATINGS ACROSS ALL OUR MANUFACTURING SITES BY FY 2025-26.

How is Neuland leveraging digitalisation and scientific innovation to enhance operational efficiency and R&D outcomes?

FY 2024-25 marked a major leap in our digital transformation journey. We successfully migrated to SAP S/4 HANA, going live in April 2025 after completing all foundational work during the year. This upgrade gives us a unified digital backbone and a single source of truth across the enterprise. It lays the foundation for smarter analytics and decision-making, with AI now being piloted in route design within R&D and digital tools being adopted in supply chain and manufacturing. We are also working towards integrating our lab and shop-floor equipment into a central digital platform.

In parallel, we have spent significant time ensuring we have right bench-marks when it comes to R&D execution, and giving the R&D teams the right support so that Neuland would be considered as best in class. We are strengthening our process development efforts under a Quality by Design (QbD) framework. This approach focuses on building quality into processes from the outset, ensuring consistency, scalability, and regulatory compliance. We rolled out Electronic Lab Notebooks (ELNBs) across R&D to enhance traceability and data integrity and upgraded our analytical capabilities with advanced instrumentation like HRMS and ion chromatography. Together, these steps are enabling faster, more scalable, and more precise innovation.

What steps has Neuland taken to strengthen trust, reliability, and sustainability across its operations and partnerships?

At Neuland, building trust is foundational to how we operate, partner, and deliver. A key enabler of this has been the strengthening of our project management system. Over the past year, we enhanced governance structures, clarified roles, and improved cross-functional coordination – ensuring greater transparency and tighter collaboration with customers. Combined with better tools, processes, and team alignment, these efforts have improved our right-first-time performance on product scale-ups. With the groundwork laid in FY 2024-25, we are well positioned to deliver even stronger and more predictable outcomes in FY 2025-26.

Our customer-focused mindset extends beyond execution. We conduct regular customer satisfaction surveys and closely track how our work is impacting partners. This ongoing feedback loop helps keep our teams aligned, responsive, and motivated. We were pleased to see a meaningful improvement in our NPS and CSAT scores in FY 2024-25, reflecting the growing confidence customers place in Neuland.

Trust is also built through a consistent track record on quality, safety, and sustainability. In FY 2024-25, our Unit-III, was awarded the Sword of Honour by the British Safety Council, a distinction that positions us to achieve five-star safety ratings across all our manufacturing sites by FY 2025-26. On the ESG front, Neuland achieved an outstanding score of 70 out of 100, up from 64. We were also featured in S&P's Sustainability Yearbook, placing us among the top 4 percent of pharmaceutical companies evaluated globally. These recognitions affirm our long-term commitment to responsible operations and sustainability-led growth.

How is Neuland building a world-class talent pipeline to support its future growth ambitions?

Talent is a critical enabler of Neuland's long-term strategy. As we move toward more complex, technology-driven programmes, we have focused on strengthening the quality and specialisation of our teams. In FY 2024-25, we onboarded scientists and professionals with strong academic and research pedigrees from leading institutions across India, the US, and Europe—ensuring we have the depth of expertise needed to deliver on future-ready platforms.

This approach spans across the organisation. We are actively building strong second- and third-line leadership and bringing in subject matter experts to expand capabilities in areas like peptides and complex APIs. This supports our shift away from commodity generics and into differentiated, high-impact work – without relying on large acquisitions or compromising delivery to customers.

Equally important is the employee experience. We continue to evolve our employee value proposition through regular engagement surveys, exit interviews, and feedback mechanisms. These efforts help us understand what drives motivation and retention. In FY 2024-25, engagement levels are high with an Employee Engagement Score of 70 and eNPS of 39—reflecting our commitment to building a purpose-driven, high-performance culture that can scale with the business.

ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT FOCUS AREAS FOR NEULAND IS PEPTIDES, WHICH ARE GAINING TRACTION GLOBALLY AS A PROMISING THERAPEUTIC MODALITY.

What are some of the key strategic investments Neuland is making in FY 2025-26?

One of the most significant focus areas for Neuland is peptides, which are gaining traction globally as a promising therapeutic modality. With increased interest from innovators and formulators alike, we believe this is the right time to scale our capabilities beyond lab and pilot scale. Having built deep R&D expertise in peptides over the last 15 years, we are now taking the next step to meet growing customer demand and support commercial programmes.

To that end, we announced a capital investment of ₹ 342 crore to enhance manufacturing capacity across two sites. This includes around ₹ 250 crore toward a new large-scale, multi-product peptide facility at Unit-I, which will increase reactor capacity from 0.5 KL to 6.37 KL by FY 2026-27. An additional ₹ 88 crore has been committed to expand capacity by 52 KL at Unit-III. These investments will significantly strengthen our position in the peptide space and enable us to support customers from early development through to commercial supply.

What is your outlook for FY 2025-26, and how is Neuland positioning itself in the broader industry landscape?

The momentum we are seeing globally points to a fundamental shift. Supply chain diversification has become a strategic imperative, and this extends well beyond pharmaceuticals. Across industries, there is growing recognition that overdependence on a single geography/country carries risk. The diversification strategy is driving meaningful investment into India, and this is being viewed as a pivotal opportunity to regain lost ground and strengthen the country's manufacturing base.

At Neuland, we are encouraged by the growing interest from customers. We are seeing steady traction with early-stage projects, along with existing clients bringing more programmes to us. Our investments in capacity and capability expansion reflect our long-term commitment, underpinned by our core values of customer centricity, agility, and operational excellence.

FY 2025-26 will be about execution. We will operationalise new capacity at Unit-III and see upgrades across our facilities. With recent land and facility acquisitions, we are positioned for continued scaling. The ramp-up of CMS commercial programmes, along with a sustained focus on high-barrier specialty APIs in GDS, gives us confidence in meeting our objectives. Across both segments, our goal remains to be the partner of choice in our ever-increasing areas of expertise. Everything we are doing – from capital investment to talent development to ESG – is aligned with that goal.

Message
from Vice-Chairman & MD

WE CONTINUE TO INVEST IN TECHNOLOGY-LED DIFFERENTIATION AND OPERATIONAL EXCELLENCE, CRITICAL TO SUPPORTING COMPLEX PROGRAMMES AND FOSTERING LONG-TERM TRUST WITH GLOBAL INNOVATORS.

Dear Shareholders,

I am pleased to report that Neuland made good progress on its strategic priorities in FY 2024-25. While the year was one of consolidation, shaped by the lifecycle dynamics of our products in both the GDS and CMS portfolios, we expect strong growth to resume from FY 2025-26.

GENERIC DRUG SUBSTANCES (GDS)

The GDS business delivered a stable performance, despite temporary market share impacts from certain regulatory changes. The specialty segment was led by Paliperidone and Dorzolamide. In the prime segment, Mirtazapine, Levetiracetam, Escitalopram, and Ezetimibe anchored our portfolio.

We filed five US DMFs during the year. Among them, the DMF filing for Difelikefalin marked Neuland's formal entry into peptide APIs, a significant milestone in our shift toward more complex and differentiated products.

Our GDS strategy is increasingly focussed on strengthening our presence in the specialty segment, where scientific differentiation enables greater value and market share leadership. In parallel, we continue to optimise processes and expand market share for our core portfolio. A key enabler has been our broad push for cost leadership, driven by second- and third-generation process improvements across multiple APIs, which continue to strengthen our competitiveness.

We are also transforming our approach to new product development. Closer integration between R&D, market intelligence, and commercial teams is helping us identify and pursue complex, high-value molecules more effectively. Our R&D productivity is improving, with the number of DMFs filed annually increasing over previous years, supported by a pipeline that reflects both scientific depth and market relevance.

CUSTOM MANUFACTURING SOLUTIONS (CMS)

The CMS business remained steady in FY 2024-25, with revenues driven by commercial molecules. While there was a slight decline in the topline, the core products in our commercial portfolio continued to perform well, and customer relationships remain strong. These dynamics provide a solid foundation for future growth, even as annual or quarterly fluctuations in revenue may occur.

We are seeing increased traction in early-stage programmes, particularly from biotech customers, reflecting a broader trend of innovators seeking reliable partners for complex development work. While these programmes may take time to scale commercially, they are expected to contribute to growth over the medium to long term. We are also seeing growing interest from innovators with peptide molecules and have seen some of these interactions translate into early-stage projects. The increasing focus on peptide therapies, driven by breakthroughs with GLP-1s and other oral peptides, combined with Neuland's capabilities, makes the peptide business a clear priority going forward.

Our portfolio now includes over 90 active projects, with deep engagements across more than 25 customers. Strengthening and expanding these relationships is a key strategic focus. Our business development objectives are geared towards adding exciting products, the likes of which have helped us scale the business. However, since it is difficult to accurately forecast the success of products, especially in terms of clinical trial performance, it is crucial for us to build a diversified portfolio of projects. We try to provide visibility into our progress by disclosing the number of active projects, but these absolute numbers should be viewed directionally rather than as precise quantitative measures.

We continue to invest in technology-led differentiation and operational excellence, both critical to supporting complex programmes and fostering long-term trust with global innovators. Our investment in the softer capabilities that differentiate Neuland continues with increasing momentum. While every organisation is unique in its own way, I believe we have built a CDMO business that is one of its kind in India – evidenced by the strong growth we have seen over the years, even though FY 2024–25 was an exception. We seek to further push the envelope on that front, even as we anticipate healthy growth from our current set of products over the next few years. With a strong pipeline and a focus on long-term value creation, CMS remains the key growth driver for the Company.

LOOKING AHEAD

We entered FY 2025-26 with renewed momentum, underscored by the completion of additional manufacturing facilities, the anticipated commercial launch of new CMS molecules, and increasing customer interest across both GDS and CMS portfolios. These developments, along with our continued focus on operational excellence and long-term capability building, strengthen our confidence in delivering sustainable growth.

The pharmaceutical industry is steadily shifting from high-volume, traditional APIs toward more targeted, high-potency therapeutics. While small molecules continue to remain in focus, Neuland is evolving in step with this shift. A core strategic priority is expanding our capabilities in complex chemistries and new modalities such as peptides – now central to global innovation pipelines. Our planned investment in peptide manufacturing reflects this direction and positions Neuland among a select group of companies in the region building meaningful depth in this space.

Equally important is our investment in people. We are strengthening our scientific talent pool and leadership bench across functions, with a clear focus on building sustainable capabilities that can support advanced programmes, deliver consistent execution, and future-proof the organisation. These efforts are vital to ensuring we grow with our customers and remain a trusted partner in their innovation journeys.

Historically, Neuland has been a valued partner to biotech companies. What is changing now is the significant increase in engagement with big pharmaceutical companies. Over the past year, we have seen a marked rise in new interactions – some driven by M&A-related integrations and others by direct interest. These developments reflect growing recognition of Neuland's capabilities. Building deeper partnerships with Big Pharma is now a clearly defined medium-term objective, and we believe the foundation is stronger than ever to achieve it.

The diversification away from China by Western pharmaceutical companies as they look to rebalance their supply chains is also creating fresh opportunities. Neuland is well-positioned to benefit from this trend, supported by a strong reputation, high-quality infrastructure, and regulatory credibility. While tariff-related developments are being closely monitored, we do not foresee a material impact, as our primary competitors are based outside the US, and our position as a preferred supplier to many customers helps mitigate potential disruptions.

Neuland remains deeply committed to human health and to being a trusted partner to the pharmaceutical industry. Backed by a strong balance sheet, scientific agility, and long-term strategic clarity, we are confident in our ability to navigate near-term challenges and capitalise on the opportunities ahead.

As we look to the future with optimism, I would like to thank our people whose dedication drives our progress every day. I am equally grateful to our customers, investors, and partners for the trust they place in us – and to the broader community for their continued encouragement and belief in what Neuland stands for.

OPERATING ENVIRONMENT

Understanding Our World, Shaping Our Response

> Contract Development and Manufacturing Organisations (CDMOs) are playing an increasingly central role in transforming the pharmaceutical industry by offering end-to-end solutions in drug development and commercialisation. The Active Pharmaceutical Ingredient (API) CDMO market was valued at US$ 101.4 billion in 2023 and is projected to grow at a CAGR of 6.6% between 2024 and 2032. Notably, this segment is expected to outpace overall pharmaceutical industry growth through 2028, as outsourcing becomes the preferred model for accessing specialised skills and scalable infrastructure.

KEY TRENDS SHAPING THE INDUSTRY

Rise in Outsourcing and Strategic Partnerships

Pharmaceutical companies – from large multinationals to emerging biotech firms – are increasingly outsourcing drug development and manufacturing across the value chain. This shift is driven by rising R&D costs, post-COVID supply chain vulnerabilities, and the need for operational agility. CDMOs are no longer seen as transactional suppliers but as strategic partners offering comprehensive services from development to commercialisation. This has created a culture of collaboration, with drug companies leveraging CDMOs' specialised capabilities and industry insights.

Our Response

We continue to deepen our CDMO capabilities through early-stage partnerships, technology-led execution, and a flexible model that supports scale, speed, and integration. Our value proposition is rooted in trust, reliability, and scientific depth.

Global Growth in Generic Pharmaceuticals

The global demand for generic drugs is on the rise, driven by a combination of patent expirations, chronic disease prevalence, and healthcare systems prioritising affordability. Generics offer the same therapeutic efficacy as branded drugs at significantly lower costs, making them critical to expanding access – particularly in emerging and price-sensitive markets. The global generics market is projected to grow from US$ 435.3 billion in 2023 to US$ 655.8 billion by 2028, reflecting a CAGR of 8.5%. Governments are actively promoting the use of generics to reduce public health expenditure, further accelerating adoption.

Our Response

With over four decades of expertise in complex chemistry and regulatory compliance, Neuland is well-positioned to support the growing demand for high-quality generic APIs. Our GDS vertical continues to scale its specialty product offerings while remaining a reliable supplier of high-volume generics.

Supply Chain Resilience

The COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent geopolitical developments have exposed vulnerabilities in global pharmaceutical supply chains. In response, drug companies are actively working to de-risk their operations by diversifying suppliers, shortening lead times, and increasing regionalisation. One of the key developments influencing this shift is the proposed U.S. Biosecure Act, aimed at reducing reliance on Chinese pharmaceutical and biotech suppliers. While recent policy signals suggest a softening in stance, the broader China-Plus-One strategy continues to gain traction, with India emerging as a preferred global manufacturing hub.

Our Response

Our India-based operations, high compliance focus, and investments in capacity and digitalisation position us as a dependable partner. We are proactively diversifying our supplier base and reducing geographic concentration, with alternate sourcing strategies in place for critical materials.

Agility and Operational Efficiency

Agile methodologies, long associated with the tech industry, are now finding meaningful applications in the pharmaceutical value chain. As the industry grapples with pricing pressures, rising regulatory complexity, evolving customer demands, and localised supply chains, agility has become essential for speed, adaptability, and resilience. Agile practices enable companies to streamline internal operations, improve responsiveness, and accelerate regulatory approvals without compromising compliance. CDMOs that can flex and scale in sync with customer needs are becoming strategic partners of choice.

Our Response

We have adopted agile principles to enhance operational excellence and ensure On-Time In-Full (OTIF) delivery. Through digitised project tools, dynamic capacity planning, and closer partner collaboration, we are improving responsiveness, streamlining execution, and sustaining high standards of quality and compliance.

Digital Transformation and Automation

Digital transformation is revolutionising pharmaceutical operations. From e-signatures and document management systems to artificial intelligence and machine learning operations (MLOps), companies are using technology to reduce cycle times, improve compliance, and scale innovation. Automation is enabling better planning, quality assurance, and regulatory preparedness, while MLOps are driving intelligent process control and real-time analytics.

Our Response

We are accelerating our digital transformation journey through investments in LIMS, SAP S/4 HANA, automated manufacturing systems, and real-time dashboards. These tools support enhanced compliance, decision-making speed, and customer transparency.

Sustainability as a Strategic Imperative

Sustainability has become a non-negotiable priority across the pharmaceutical value chain. With heightened regulatory scrutiny, growing customer expectations, and urgent environmental concerns, CDMOs are under increasing pressure to reduce their environmental footprint. From emissions and water consumption to energy efficiency and packaging waste – sustainability is now central to contract eligibility and long-term relevance.

Our Response

We have embedded sustainability across our operations – from green chemistry adoption and emissions monitoring to efficient waste and water management. Our Net Zero roadmap and alignment with global standards reflect our long-term environmental commitment.

There has been no change to the list of material topics compared to the previous year. We conduct Materiality Assessment once every three years to ensure that the company's ESG strategy and goals remain aligned with evolving market trends, regulatory requirements, and stakeholder expectations. This interval allows for a thorough evaluation of emerging risks and opportunities without being overly burdensome.

Starting from FY 2025-26, we intend transitioning to a double materiality assessment approach, recognising both the financial and environmental/social impacts of our operations. This shift will provide a more comprehensive understanding of the risks and opportunities that affect not only our business but also our stakeholders and the broader society.

BOARD EFFECTIVENESS

The Nomination & Remuneration Committee, in consultation with the Board, has implemented a structured assessment process for Board evaluation. The process is designed to measure the effectiveness of the Board by evaluating the functioning of the Board, its Committees, and individual Directors annually. The collective effectiveness of the Board is considered to significantly impact performance.

Board's performance is assessed based on the roles and responsibilities outlined in the statute and the Company's policy. The Board evaluation process identifies efficiencies, maximises strengths, and highlights areas for further development to improve performance and effectiveness continually.

For more information about the criteria for evaluation, please refer to our Corporate Governance Report on pages 208.

FOSTERING A RISK-AWARE CULTURE

We promote a culture of accountability and awareness through:

- A structured RACI (Responsible, Accountable, Consulted, Informed) model to define roles and responsibilities
- Scorecard integration of ESG and risk KPIs for leaders, which is linked to their variable pay
- Training and awareness programmes to democratise risk thinking is carried out using in-person training as well as LMS systems
- Risk Culture Diagnostics, last conducted in FY 2021-22, to assess enabling conditions and areas for improvement

MONITORING EMERGING RISKS

We actively monitor external risks as part of our Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) programme. This enables us to minimise blind spots, assess organisational readiness for evolving risk scenarios, and stay aligned with global risk management trends and practices. Our approach includes:

- Peer Risk Analysis: We conduct quarterly analyses of investor transcripts and disclosures from industry peers to identify relevant risk themes, their impact, and mitigation strategies.
- Global Benchmarking: We draw insights from leading risk publications such as the World Economic Forum Global Risks Report, EIU Emerging Risk Reports, and annual industry surveys.
- Scenario Planning: Inputs from geopolitical, environmental, and economic risk forecasts are factored into our risk inventory to enhance preparedness and resilience.

These efforts ensure that Neuland remains forward-looking and agile in identifying and addressing emerging risks in an increasingly complex environment.

BUSINESS CONTINUITY (ALIGNED TO ISO 22301)

The Company initiated its formal BCMS programme, aligned to ISO 22301 scoping in all departments and locations, and aims to secure accreditation in FY 2025-26.

Our Phase 1 aligned to ISO 22301 was completed in February 2025. This covered extensive workshops, documentation and trainings aligned to ISO 22301.

IT/DR, BCP test plan(s) and Crisis simulation exercises for management were additionally carried out to test and strengthen resilience and crisis communication

During FY 2024-25, we witnessed an enhanced level of interest from our customers relating to BCMS, underscoring the importance of this initiative.

CYBER SECURITY RISK MANAGEMENT AND DATA PRIVACY

Neuland's Cybersecurity and Data Privacy Framework is continuously updated to align with global standards. Our privacy policy is aligned with EU GDPR and is being updated to Global Standards and Emerging regulations, and is being updated from time to time. In FY 2023-24, we successfully upgraded and recertified our Information Security Management System (ISMS) to ISO 27001:2022, reinforcing our commitment to world-class security practices.

GOVERNANCE

We continue to take a top-down approach to cyber risk governance. Our MD & Vice Chairman actively sponsors the IT/cybersecurity programme, signalling strong leadership commitment. Our Risk and Sustainability Committee includes members with experience in Information Technology and Cybersecurity, ensuring comprehensive oversight at the strategic level.

The governance of cyber risk is managed at different levels. The Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) is responsible for managing day-to-day operations related to cybersecurity and reports to Chief Information Officer (CIO). The CIO presents cybersecurity status and other updates to the Managing Director regularly.

Our Board has delegated the oversight of cybersecurity and other information technology risks to the Risk and Sustainability Committee. The Committee periodically engages on cybersecurity risks along with other key risks and mitigations, and provides an update to the Board.

More details on how we address cybersecurity and data privacy risks can be found in our Intellectual Capital Section on Page 76.

COMPLIANCE AND ETHICS

We maintain a robust compliance framework supported by a dedicated team and a customised web-based platform that centralises the tracking and monitoring of statutory compliances. Regulatory updates are reviewed in consultation with relevant functions, and quarterly compliance status reports are shared with the Audit Committee and the Board.

Ensuring timely compliance is our priority. We employ technology to streamline our compliance processes, thereby ensuring adherence to environmental laws, securities laws, finance laws, and labour laws, among other regulations.

COMMITMENT TO ETHICS AND COMPLIANCE

Compliance Awareness Month

As part of our continued commitment to ethical business practices and regulatory compliance, during October 2024 we observed compliance awareness month with the theme, Compliance Drives Business Growth. This initiative aimed to reinforce our organisation's compliance culture, raise awareness about topics such as ethical conduct, anti-corruption and anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, prevention of sexual harassment, whistle-blower, human rights and adherence to statutory compliances.

Throughout the month, we organised a series of activities including, posters, danglers, refresher through digital boards, e-mails featuring compliance tips and policy highlights. We also conducted trainings and quizzes on compliance and rewarded the winners.

Compliance Pledge

As part of our efforts to foster a strong culture of ethics and accountability, all employees across the organisation participated in the Compliance Pledge. This initiative reaffirmed our collective commitment to integrity, transparency, and adherence to all applicable laws and internal policies.

By taking the Compliance Pledge, employees acknowledged their responsibility to:

- Act with honesty and uphold ethical standards in all business dealings
- Understand and comply with the company's Code of Conduct and relevant regulations
- Speak up and report any concerns or potential violations without fear of retaliation

By engaging employees across departments and levels, we continue to strengthen our compliance framework and maintain the highest standards of corporate governance. We remain committed to fostering a transparent and compliant organisational culture that aligns with both local regulations and global best practices.

Code of Ethical Conduct and Whistleblower Mechanism

Neuland fosters a culture of ethics, integrity, and accountability through a well-defined Code of Conduct. All employees are required to formally acknowledge the policy annually, and adherence is reinforced through regular training and assessments.

We follow a zero-tolerance approach towards breaches of ethical conduct, including discrimination and harassment. Disciplinary measures are taken as per the severity of violations, varying from warnings to termination.

Our Whistleblower policy and Vigil Mechanism provide a secure and confidential platform for employees and stakeholders to report unethical behaviour or policy violations and also provides protection against retaliation.

100% Adherence to the Code of Conduct of the Company is mandatory.

Communication of critical concerns

At Neuland, we uphold the highest standards of governance and regulatory compliance by ensuring that critical concerns are promptly communicated to our Board of Directors.

In addition to reporting any critical concerns related to business operations, technology and sustainability, we also provide quarterly updates on matters including whistleblower complaints, sexual harassment, cybersecurity breaches, insider trading, litigations, compliance adherence, and actions taken, if any. These critical concerns are usually identified through our grievance mechanisms, as a result of regular risk assessments, or an incident.

During FY 2024-25, no critical concerns impacting the organisation's business were raised by stakeholders through the grievance mechanisms or otherwise that required escalation to the Board of Directors.

INTERNAL CONTROLS MECHANISM

Our internal controls and audit mechanisms are designed to uphold transparency, accountability, and risk mitigation across all operations. Reputed audit firms conduct internal audits based on an annual plan approved by the Audit Committee. These audits cover core functions such as manufacturing, R&D, supply chain, finance, IT, and EHS, and follow international standards and risk-based methodologies. Additionally, statutory compliance and ESG reviews were conducted as part of internal audit during the year.

In addition, specialised third-party consultants review business-specific areas like quality systems, production management, and information security. Findings and recommendations are presented to the Audit Committee, which monitors implementation of corrective actions where needed.

Board oversight on Compliance matters

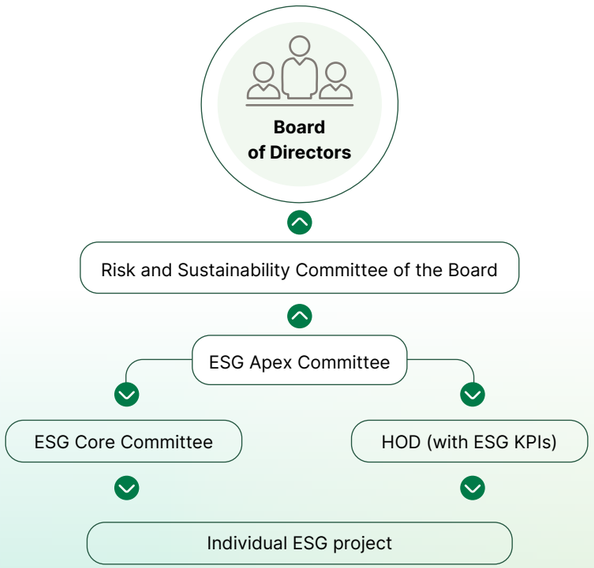

The Audit Committee plays a central role in governance oversight. It regularly reviews internal audit findings including Company's applicable policies and procedures, management analyses, financial statements, related party transactions, statutory compliance, insider trading reports, and whistleblower updates. It also works closely with statutory auditors to evaluate the adequacy and effectiveness of internal control systems. Key outcomes and observations are reported to the Board for further review. During the year, an external review of the Company's high risk statutory compliances was conducted by Ernst & Young, our Internal Auditors and no non-compliance was observed.

SUSTAINABILITY

In line with our commitment to stakeholder trust and governance, we recognise our business practices, opportunities and risks are intricately connected with our environment and communities.

At the Board level, risk and sustainability governance is integrated through the Risk and Sustainability Committee (R&S Committee). The R&S Committee provides overall direction and oversight for the company's ESG strategy and ensures that ESG goals align with the company's long-term business strategy and that necessary resources and systems are in place to achieve these goals. The Committee also reviews the company's ESG performance and impacts thereof.

At an organisational level, we have established a dedicated organisation structure leading up to the ESG Apex Committee. The Apex Committee comprises leaders accountable for ESG and is responsible for strategising, approving and directing implementation of ESG initiatives across the company. It sets clear ESG objectives and monitors progress against goals, and other impacts across various functions to ensure alignment with ESG strategy.

The ESG Core committee comprises leaders and members from both corporate and operational units, meeting monthly, and are responsible for implementation, reviewing progress on ESG projects and metrics, addressing local compliance issues and other impacts.

The Heads of Departments (HODs) are responsible for integrating ESG goals within their respective departments. Performance is tracked monthly through KPIs, which are aligned with the company's sustainability targets.

ESG projects are cascaded down, and the team members are enabled via training and handholding by specialists and consultants. On the ground, specific initiatives or actions are typically led by cross-functional teams and these projects focus on tangible outcomes like reducing carbon emissions, improving employee welfare, or ensuring ethical sourcing.

All operational ESG risks and potential impacts are integrated in the Company's ERM framework, and addressed as part of the risk management efforts of the company.

Climate Change risks and TCFD

Climate Change risk is on our watchlist as part of emerging enterprise risks to the organisation. In FY 2022-23, we also adopted the Task Force for Climate Related financial disclosures (TCFD) framework in order to ascertain the resilience of our business strategy to climate related risks. In FY 2023-24, five climate change risks were identified but their probability and impact on our operations are yet to be determined through studies. Details are provided in the last part of this section.

During FY 2024-25 our progress on Climate risks included filing our SBTi successfully and as on the date of this report, we are awaiting validation. We also filed our CDP and have been rated C for Climate Risk, and A- for Water. Both are closely knit with the TCFD progress and effort.

We have recently initiated a formal TCFD project that will attempt to consolidate the work done so far, as well as quantify financial risks and opportunities from Climate Change. Our TCFD progress reports can be accessed from our website.

Physical or Transition risks	Brief Description	Current Mitigation
Riverine Floods Physical Risk	Neuland's sites in Hyderabad are exposed to high riverine flood risks due to the city's susceptibility to heavy rainfall and flooding. These physical risks pose significant threats to the company's operations and business continuity. The heavy rainfall and flooding have an impact on the ease and ability of employees and workers to commute to the workplace during such events. Flood risks additionally may result in risk of loss of life and damage to infrastructure.	The local municipal corporation actively addresses flood risks through various measures, such as improving the drainage system, controlling encroachments in catchment areas, and conserving and protecting areas requiring groundwater recharge. Neuland incorporates flood risk considerations into its business continuity plan to enhance resilience against potential flood events.
Supply Chain Impact from Extreme Weather Events Physical Risk	Extreme weather events can disrupt Neuland's supply chain, resulting in delays in material despatch and receipt.	Neuland is currently evaluating critical supplier sites for eco-system integrity on parameters such as climate events, water stress and biodiversity impact, to ensure supply chain resilience.
Policy or Regulatory Pressure Requiring Transition from Coal-Fired Boiler Transition Risk	Transitioning from a coal-fired boiler to a gas-based boiler presents transition risks, such as a 50% reduction in capacity and potential gas unavailability.	Neuland aims to assess the impact on capacity and gas availability. The Company is also keen on understanding if this transition effectively reduces greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions.
Employee Training for Operational Changes Transition Risks	Transitioning to new paradigms and technologies may require educating employees to adapt to operational changes effectively.	Neuland has initiated necessary training for employees to familiarise them with new paradigms and technologies once the transition strategy is finalised.
Extreme Heat and its Consequences on Our People and Operations (New) Physical risks	2024 summers have seen unprecedented high temperatures of >46 degrees centigrade in some of the districts. India is witnessing severe to extreme weather conditions and some of these events may have indirect consequences on our workforce and supply chain operations.	Neuland is evaluating the consequences and mitigations of these extreme temperature events on our construction and supply chain operations and workforce.

FY 2024-25 PERFORMANCE REVIEW

We saw marginal decrease in topline in FY 2024-25 as compared to FY 2023-24, which is further reflected in terms of decline in operating margins and profits.

In FY 2024-25, our total income stood at ₹ 1,497.35 crore versus ₹ 1,571.12 crore, a marginal degrowth of 4.7%. EBITDA, excluding exceptional items, stood at ₹ 342.81 crore in FY 2024-25 as compared to ₹ 474.47 crore in FY 2023-24. We generated a free cash flow in the full year of ₹ 111.04 crore. We also paid back some of our term loan debt of around ₹ 39.44 crore. Our net debt position stands at a negative of ₹ 228.74 crore as at March 31, 2025 as against negative ₹ 32.64 crore as at March 31, 2024.

We continue to focus on cash to optimise our working capital, which stood at 107 days of sales at the end of March 2025.

VALUE CREATION AND PRUDENT CAPITAL ALLOCATION

We deploy our financial capital judiciously and responsibly to safeguard business continuity and drive sustainable value creation for all stakeholders.

Our capital allocation follows a structured process that considers risks and stays flexible to meet changing business needs and market conditions. Our growth strategy balances both near-term and long-term capital expenditure requirements – while ensuring optimal capital retention and a prudent dividend distribution policy.

As part of our overall investments, we have invested ₹ 206.45 crore in capital spends and are committed to balancing growth and profitability by continuously optimising costs and processes to ensure long-term sustainability.

The Board undertakes a comprehensive review of macroeconomic conditions and sector-specific trends before making dividend recommendations. In FY 2024-25, our dividend pay-out of approximately 5.9% of profit after tax (PAT) reflects our disciplined capital management philosophy and continued focus on long-term value creation, even as we reinvest strategically for future growth.

TAX STRATEGY

Our Company maintains a straightforward corporate structure, with minimal transactional complexities with our subsidiary companies, thereby negating the need for an elaborate Taxation Strategy and Tax Transparency report. Our tax policy, founded on principles of honesty and integrity, fairness, legality, and transparency, affirms our commitment to simplicity and clarity in our tax affairs.

We engage in transparent and constructive dialogues with tax authorities, fostering trust and cooperation. Our leadership exemplifies 'tone at the top' by promoting ethical tax practices.

Both direct and indirect taxes are reviewed and/or audited by our statutory auditors as well as tax auditors every year, who ensure our compliance with tax laws and regulations. Contingencies and claims are separately captured (see Page 305 in our Financial reports).

Stakeholders who review our reports are provided with clear and concise tax information.

DELIVERING EXCELLENCE THROUGH WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES

Located around Hyderabad, our three advanced manufacturing facilities underpin our API production strategy and global delivery commitments. These facilities cater to both domestic and international markets, and are designed to uphold the highest standards of quality, efficiency, and compliance.

All facilities operate in line with stringent current Good Manufacturing Practices (cGMP), enabling us to consistently deliver high-quality APIs across a diverse therapeutic portfolio. Our plants have been successfully audited and approved by leading global regulatory authorities, including the USFDA, EDQM, BfArM (Germany), TGA (Australia), PMDA (Japan), AFSSAPS (France), ANVISA (Brazil), and Cofepris (Mexico). The continued compliance across multiple inspections reflects our unwavering commitment to regulatory excellence.

Our manufacturing network is capable of handling both high-volume, complex and niche APIs. This scale and flexibility allow us to meet the evolving requirements of a wide global customer base. In addition, we have dedicated mini-plants designed specifically to support the development and scale-up of new API processes, enhancing our responsiveness to customer needs and accelerating time-to-market for innovative products.

Neuland's manufacturing capability is uniquely positioned to address backward integration as well as multipurpose manufacturing.

Backward integration in terms of manufacturing early intermediates, for key APIs, enhances our control over the entire production process, from material sourcing to final product delivery ultimately delivering high quality APIs in a timely manner.

Our multipurpose plants provide the flexibility to serve diverse markets and this adaptability ensures quick response to changing market demands, whether in developed or emerging regions. By maintaining uniformity in quality compliance and operating practices across all production lines, our plants guarantee consistent product quality, regulatory adherence, and efficient operations, supporting a wide range of customer requirements and fostering long-term market reliability.

INVESTING IN SCALABLE, FUTURE-READY INFRASTRUCTURE

In FY 2024-25, we continued to advance our infrastructure to support long-term growth and evolving customer needs. At Unit-III, we completed new production blocks, and we expect commercial operations to begin in the second half of FY 2025-26.

A key highlight of the year was the announcement of a US$ 30 million investment to expand our peptide manufacturing capabilities. The new facility, coming up at Unit-I, will be a state-of-the-art, multi-product, multi-modular peptide plant, fully automated through Distributed Control Systems (DCS). It is designed to support the needs of innovators as well as complex generics formulators, enabling flexible and compliant manufacturing at scale. A portion of the investment is also being directed towards upgrading our existing pilot-scale peptide setup, also located in Unit-I.

These investments reflect our belief in the long-term potential of peptides and our intent to scale with agility and purpose, backed by over 15 years of peptide expertise. The infrastructure will enable us to seamlessly move from lab to pilot to commercial scale, helping us meet customer demand more effectively.

ENHANCING MANUFACTURING WITH AUTOMATION AND TECHNOLOGY

Investing in technologies that add value to customers and differentiate us in the industry continues to be a strategic priority. During the year, we made meaningful strides in automation and digitalisation across our manufacturing network.

As part of our ongoing improvement efforts, we have implemented several upgrades at Unit-III to enhance operational efficiency, safety, and environmental compliance. These improvements are aimed at optimising production processes and will serve as a benchmark for potential implementation across other locations. By introducing automation and advanced technologies, we are working to improve process precision, reduce risks, and ensure sustainable and compliant operations.

Key improvements include:

Automation of a 215 KL production block using Distributed Control Systems (DCS) for better control and efficiency across various process stages.

Automated solvent dispensing for controlled transfer from bulk tanks to day tanks, improving safety and environmental standards.

Digital equipment status board for real-time tracking of equipment performance and utilisation.

Closed-loop powder handling system with the Nauta dryer to ensure dust-free material transfer and enhance safety.

These upgrades at Unit-III reflect our commitment to enhancing operational standards and are intended to be extended to other locations in due course.

EMBEDDING SUSTAINABILITY INTO MANUFACTURING PRACTICES

We deepened our commitment to sustainability by integrating environmentally responsible practices across our manufacturing operations. These efforts are aimed at improving resource efficiency, reducing our environmental footprint, and ensuring long-term operational resilience.

Key initiatives included:

Energy Efficiency
We deployed energy-efficient technologies and practices across our sites to reduce power consumption and lower greenhouse gas emissions.

Waste Management
Our waste handling systems were enhanced to reduce generation at source and increase recycling and co-processing, contributing to cleaner and more efficient production cycles.

Water Conservation
We implemented water-saving measures such as optimised wastewater treatment.

Green Chemistry Integration
We advanced the use of green chemistry principles by reducing hazardous substances in chemical processes, optimising reactions through catalysis, and adopting energy-efficient synthesis methods. We also increased our focus on sourcing raw materials from sustainable and renewable sources.

Process Optimisation
Several processes were reengineered to minimise waste and improve material efficiency, contributing to both cost-effectiveness and environmental sustainability.

DRIVING OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCY AND ASSET PRODUCTIVITY

Operational excellence and asset productivity are high focus areas. We have implemented several initiatives to enhance efficiency, streamline processes, and ensure high levels of OTIF (On-Time, In-Full) delivery.

A clearly defined set of quantitative KPIs across the manufacturing function closely monitor performance to ensure efficiencies. These KPIs include occupancy rates, out-of-specification (OOS) percentage, yields, and adherence to production and despatch schedules – all of which directly impact OTIF delivery.

To maximise asset productivity, we have adopted a multi-layered approach to capacity and resource planning. This begins with a five-year strategic roadmap, further refined into annual and quarterly plans. Challenges identified at the product-line level are addressed through lean manufacturing interventions – such as line balancing and process scale-up – within existing infrastructure, before expanding into new capacity.

UPHOLDING QUALITY AND COMPLIANCE ACROSS MANUFACTURING

Quality continues to be at the core of Neuland's manufacturing strategy, ensuring that every product meets the highest standards of safety and efficacy. In FY 2024-25, we made substantial progress in reinforcing our Quality Management System (QMS) through a combination of technology enablement, process discipline, and a culture rooted in ownership and accountability.

Our digitalisation efforts were accelerated with the rollout of new Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) modules for finished product testing, stability studies, and lab chemical management. Additionally, tools such as SAP S/4 HANA, Quality by Design (QbD) frameworks, and a structured three-tier quality review system were deployed to enhance data integrity, process control, and regulatory readiness.

To strengthen our quality-first culture, we focussed on deepening shopfloor engagement and leadership visibility across all units. Exhaustive training on cGMP and ALCOA principles, as well as structured interactions between manufacturing, R&D, and supply chain teams, ensured alignment on quality objectives and proactive risk mitigation. Cross-functional discussions and leadership involvement played a vital role in fostering a mindset of shared responsibility and continuous improvement.

Continuous improvement remained a key focus, with initiatives such as the Investigation Surveillance Programme, Regulatory Surveillance Programme, and horizontal deployment of Corrective and Preventive Actions (CAPA) to control non-conformances, improve Right First Time (RFT) performance, and accelerate batch release timelines. These efforts have directly contributed to enhanced operational efficiency, compliance adherence, and customer trust.

We successfully completed major regulatory inspections, including a USFDA audit at Unit-I with no Form 483 observations and an ANVISA inspection without any major observation at Unit-II, reaffirming our adherence to global quality standards. All three manufacturing sites were awarded ISO 9001:2015 certification, further validating our quality systems. Over 80 customer audits were conducted during the year – none of which reported critical observations. These audits offered valuable opportunities to continually improve our QMS, which we embraced in the right spirit.

AI in Manufacturing

We are currently conducting Proof of Concepts (POCs) for AI-assisted improvements across several key areas, including predictive maintenance for equipment, process optimisation using machine learning models, and enhanced quality control through automated image analysis. These AI-driven initiatives aim to improve operational efficiency, reduce downtime, and ensure consistent product quality. By exploring these technologies, we are positioning ourselves to leverage AI for better decision-making and enhanced manufacturing capabilities.

Our sustained investments in scientific infrastructure, talent, and advanced technologies continue to power our ability to solve complex chemistry challenges, drive innovation, and create high-impact API solutions for global pharmaceutical companies.

Strengthening Innovation through IP Creation

We filed for 17 new patents for various products and processes developed in-house – demonstrating our continued focus on innovation excellence and IP-driven differentiation.

Global Regulatory Filings

We filed five new US DMFs for the following GDS molecules: Brinzolamide Sterile, Dapagliflozin (Crystalline form), Empagliflozin, Difelikefalin, and Dabigatran.

Entry into the Peptide Space

Neuland formally entered the peptide API domain with the DMF filing for Difelikefalin, marking the first commercial milestone from our peptide workstream. Further peptide filings are to be expected in the coming year(s). These projects reflect our growing focus on complex, high-impact APIs that align with long-term therapeutic trends and customer needs.

Strategic R&D Investments

We are further strengthening our peptide innovation platform through focussed R&D investments in synthetic peptide capabilities. These efforts aim to ensure seamless scale-up from lab to pilot to commercial stages, enhancing our agility in delivering both CMS and GDS peptide projects.

Advancing Peptide and small molecule R&D Capabilities

During the year, a significant group of our R&D scientists underwent training in various aspects of flow chemistry and technology. Also, we scaled up our peptide synthesis and purification infrastructure. This included enhancing the peptide purification laboratory, using automated peptide synthesis systems, deploying tangential flow filtration technology.

DELIVERING CUSTOMER-CENTRIC INNOVATION IN CMS

Our intellectual capital directly fuels the success of the CMS business. In FY 2024-25, we worked with 34 customers and increased the number of projects by >10% from the previous year – delivering scientific innovation with agility.

Our ability to co-develop and scale complex APIs has positioned us as a trusted partner to innovators globally to service their evolving pipelines. Integration across R&D, manufacturing, and quality has enabled an agile and robust delivery model for CMS projects.

SAFEGUARDING INNOVATION THROUGH ROBUST IP PROTECTION

We place a high priority on the protection of intellectual property and patents, implementing an overarching strategy that encompasses several key measures. Our approach is rooted in a comprehensive, organisation-wide framework that combines legal rigour, technological vigilance, and employee awareness.

Our legal and information security framework governs patent filings and trademark protection, while confidentiality agreements with employees and partners to safeguard sensitive information, while our dedicated IP team actively monitors for potential infringements and works closely with external legal experts to take swift corrective action when needed.

We also conduct regular employee training to foster awareness and accountability around IP rights. By integrating these measures into our operations, we ensure the robust protection of our intellectual property, fostering an environment of innovation and secure growth.

LEVERAGING TECHNOLOGY

Significant strides were made in adopting advanced tools and next-generation research capabilities that blend scientific rigour with digital intelligence – laying the foundation for scalable innovation and high-performance API development.

Expanding Scientific Platforms: Our teams have extensively evaluated platform technologies such as enzymatic resolution, flow chemistry, parallel autoclaves, and parallel reactors – enabling faster and reliable execution of Design of Experiments (DoE). These advances support a robust Quality by Design (QbD) approach to process development and optimisation, addressing reproducibility, scalability, and regulatory requirements.

Advancing Drying and Particle Engineering Technologies: We also invested in sophisticated drying and particle engineering technologies, including agitated thin film dryers, spray drying systems, Nauta dryers, and hammer mills to ensure consistent particle size distribution. With the upcoming installation of Crystal 16, we are poised to gain deeper insights into crystallisation behaviours – an essential parameter in the development of complex APIs.

Enhancing Analytical Infrastructure: We upgraded our infrastructure with advanced instrumentation such as electrochemistry platforms, High Resolution Mass Spectrometry (HRMS), and ion chromatography. Additionally, the deployment of data loggers connected to cylindrical vessels is underway across laboratories – enabling real-time visibility into process variables and enhancing scientific precision.

Embracing AI-Led Innovation: We are exploring the use of artificial intelligence (AI) to accelerate route scouting, shorten development timelines, and reduce environmental impact. Our long-term goal is to embed AI-driven analytics into our research operations – streamlining workflows, supporting faster regulatory submissions, and enabling more sustainable innovation.

PRODUCT LIFECYCLE MANAGEMENT

Product lifecycle management is a critical part of our intellectual capital strategy. We adopt a structured approach to continuously optimise our processes across the product lifecycle – from development to commercial supply.

Our focus on process innovation and yield improvement enables us to improve productivity and deliver superior value to customers. We regularly benchmark our cost structures against global peers, including manufacturers in Europe and China, to ensure we remain cost-competitive in a dynamic market environment.

As part of this discipline, we continue to invest in new technologies and platforms that enable scalable, efficient, and high-quality production – allowing us to stay nimble and competitive over the long term.

SMART, AGILE PROJECT MANAGEMENT

At Neuland, project management is a strategic capability that underpins timely, reliable delivery in a dynamic pharmaceutical landscape. In FY 2024-25, we strengthened our execution frameworks by integrating agile and hybrid methodologies – combining the rigour of traditional planning with the adaptability of iterative, feedback-led approaches. This has enhanced our ability to respond swiftly to evolving customer needs and shifting market demands.

Our project planning is inherently customer-centric. By breaking complex projects into smaller, manageable increments, we ensure early value delivery and allow for real-time adjustments. Regular stakeholder engagement, open communication, and cross-functional collaboration are embedded across all stages – from initiation and planning to execution and closure.

To enable this agility, we operate a robust, digitised project management platform developed by our Project Management Office (PMO). It serves as a single source of truth, offering real-time visibility into milestones, resource allocation, and risks. Dynamic dashboards, lead/lag indicators, and performance metrics help project teams make informed decisions and proactively address disruptions.

In FY 2024-25, we further strengthened our governance ecosystem with structured internal and customer-facing forums. These forums provide enhanced transparency, faster decision-making, and improved alignment on timelines, scope, and deliverables. We also deepened our resource management capabilities to improve planning and predictability across a growing and diverse project portfolio.

Recognising the need for continuous upskilling in a fast-evolving landscape, we have invested in training and development programmes to equip project teams with the knowledge and tools required to navigate change, adopt best practices, and deliver successful outcomes.

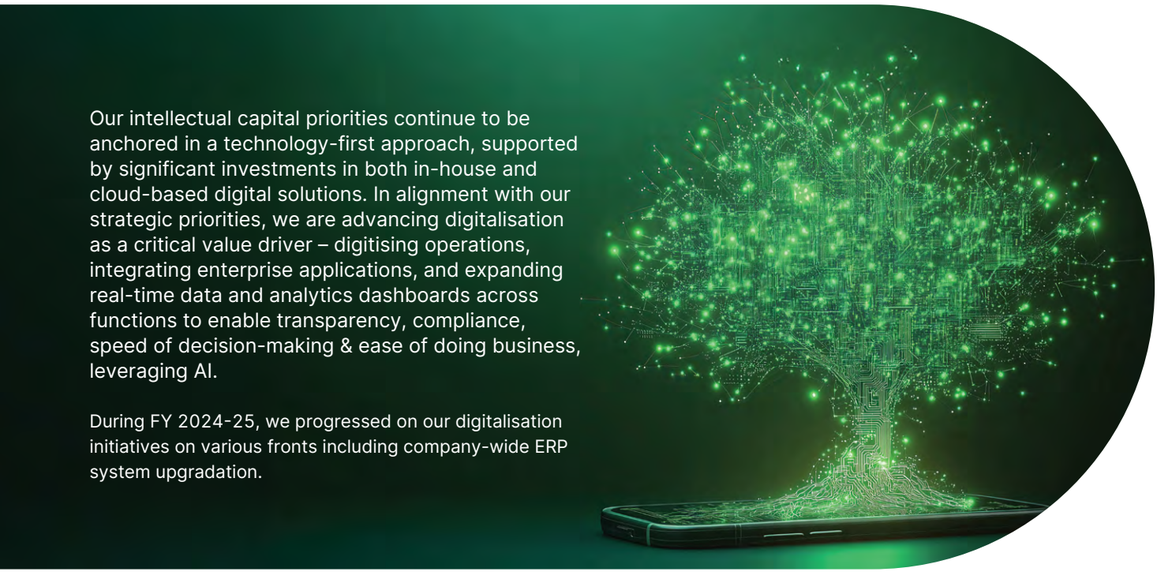

As part of our digital transformation journey, we are embedding AI and data analytics into our project management toolkit. These technologies are helping automate tasks, monitor data in real-time, enhance forecasting, and extract insights from stakeholder feedback. As next steps, we aim to develop custom AI tools for predictive analytics and performance monitoring.

SHOWCASING INNOVATION ON GLOBAL PLATFORMS

During the year, our scientists presented their work at prestigious industry conferences, including the Japan Process Chemistry Conference, the Japan Peptide Society, and BoS Manchester. These presentations received critical acclaim and drew significant attention for the depth of innovation and science.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND DIGITALISATION

Our intellectual capital priorities continue to be anchored in a technology-first approach, supported by significant investments in both in-house and cloud-based digital solutions. In alignment with our strategic priorities, we are advancing digitalisation as a critical value driver – digitising operations, integrating enterprise applications, and expanding real-time data and analytics dashboards across functions to enable transparency, compliance, speed of decision-making & ease of doing business, leveraging AI.

During FY 2024-25, we progressed on our digitalisation initiatives on various fronts including company-wide ERP system upgradation.

Key Area	Digital Initiatives
ERP	Implementation of SAP S/4 HANA as a greenfield initiative aimed to modernise enterprise architecture, enable real-time analytics, and improve integration with third-party systems.
Legal	Contract life cycle management tool implemented to streamline contract review process, improve efficiency and enhance collaboration across departments, also serving as a central repository
Quality	Deployed critical LIMS modules including OOS/OOT management, instrument integration, and electronic logbooks. Integration with SAP S/4 HANA to enable seamless data exchange for inspection lots, sample deductions, and usage decisions.
Learning and Development	Upgraded and expanded our online Learning Management System (LMS) to support learning, compliance training, and career development planning. Integrated LMS with performance and succession planning modules.
AI adoption	Proofs of Concepts (POCs) carried out in manufacturing, R&D and HR areas focussing on predictive analytics and chatbots.

PROTECTING CONFIDENTIAL, PERSONAL, AND OPERATIONAL DATA REMAINS A CORE OBJECTIVE.

CYBERSECURITY

Cybersecurity remains a critical risk area, and this year, our Risk and Sustainability Committee further deepened its oversight through structured assessments of industry-specific threats. The Indian pharmaceutical sector has experienced an increase in ransomware and data breach incidents targeting intellectual property and sensitive operational data. In response, we updated our cybersecurity heatmap, benchmarked against peer incidents, and identified new priorities to strengthen our defences.

Several initiatives underpinned our security posture this year. We expanded endpoint protection and implemented disaster recovery protocols to enhance resilience. The deployment of Virtual Desktop Infrastructure (VDI) at our R&D centre now provides a secure thin-client environment. We also doubled our network bandwidth across locations and continued to enhance visibility with centralised, cloud-based infrastructure and advanced network monitoring tools.

We have strengthened our cybersecurity defences further by expanding our implementation of Zero Trust Network Access (ZTNA) and Privileged Access Management (PAM) tools. These technologies enable us to proactively manage and restrict access to critical systems, thereby mitigating potential insider and external threats.

Looking ahead, Neuland will continue to invest in emerging digital technologies and advanced security solutions to safeguard our growing digital footprint. As we adopt new-age technologies including AI-based platforms and automation tools, data protection and cybersecurity will remain foundational to our digital transformation journey.

EMPLOYEE LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT

Approach to Training and Development

In a fast-paced pharmaceutical industry, it is vital to foster continuous learning culture to support employees' personal and professional growth while also fulfilling organisation's future business needs. Neuland's learning and development initiatives focus on technical upskilling, behavioural training, leadership development programmes, expert-led workshops, seminars and webinars on industry and company developments. Additionally, employees have access to multiple e-learning modules, LMS online portal, including the multi-lingual e-module on Neuland's core policies, which all employees are required to complete mandatorily.

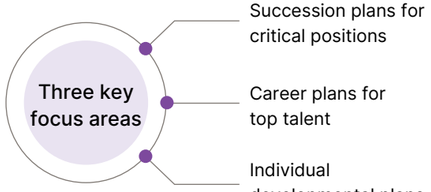

Parichay: The Induction Programme

Our induction programme, Parichay, helps integrate new hires into the organisation's thread by familiarising them with Neuland's legacy, culture and core values. In FY 2024-25, 486 new joiners received orientation through the Parichay Programme.

Buddy Programme

Our Buddy Programme pairs new employees with experienced team members to support them during their first six months with the organisation, facilitating smooth integration. At present, 85 buddies are actively supporting the new hires in their onboarding journey.

Leadership Competencies Awareness Framework

Launched in the year 2023, the Talent framework is based on a well-outlined talent assessment process and 360-degree feedback, facilitating discussions and insights featuring participants from AGM and above Grades.

As a part of our annual Talent Day process, in FY 2024-25 profiles of 100+ employees in grades AGM and above were discussed. The discussions included their strengths, areas of development and accordingly they were mapped for succession to critical positions identified by the Organisation. The leadership development journey for each individual is an outcome of this exercise. Progress is being reviewed periodically to track the development of the identified talent.

Leadership Development Programme

Leadership Journey Programme

A comprehensive managerial and leadership development Programme, led by Neuland's L&D team, in collaboration with external experts was initiated. This assessment included psychometric testing, leadership competency evaluation, among others. Developmental areas were identified and addressed through Individual Development Plans (IDPs) and periodic reviews.

Learn to Lead & Supervisory Skill Development Programme

The Programme addresses soft-skill gaps and imparts essential leadership and supervisory capabilities in young leaders, empowering them to drive team performance. The learn to lead programme covered 29 employees and supervisory skill development programme covered 51 employees during the year.

Mentoring and Coaching Programme

A selected group of employees received mentoring sessions from senior leaders to accelerate readiness for leadership roles. The programme covered 15 mentors who mentored 27 employees across the organisation in FY 2024-25.

Skill Upgradation Programmes

Our skill-upgradation policy at Neuland empowers employees to enrol in higher education programmes relevant to their roles and responsibilities, fuelling their professional development and career progression.

Performance Management

Our online performance management system focusses on establishing SMART goals. Individual employee goals are aligned with their functional objectives, which in turn, are connected to organisational goals. Our performance management framework also ensures normalisation of performance ratings and continuous feedback for all our employees.

In addition to financial metrics, the Balanced Scorecards of our Functional Heads also include a range of non-financial metrics that reflect the broader strategic priorities of the organisation. These encompass areas such as brand building, compliance, quality, and the sustainability of operations. Where relevant, the scorecards also include metrics related to customer satisfaction, risk management, ESG goals, diversity, talent retention, and adherence to regulatory requirements. Each element is assigned an appropriate weightage based on its strategic importance.

These Balanced Scorecards are cascaded down to the direct reports of senior leaders and further across the organisation, ensuring alignment of goals at all levels. Variable pay outcomes are directly linked to the achievement of these scorecard objectives, reinforcing accountability and performance-driven culture

We conduct mid-year followed by annual performance reviews for all our employees, including 1 on 1 feedback sessions between the employee and their manager. These sessions encompass performance feedback, and discussions on career development of the appraisee.

Formal 360-degree feedback process was carried out for HODs providing additional feedback to them. Team-based performance appraisals are practised for cross-functional teams involving project managers and the Project Management Office. Informal feedback is sought from internal stakeholders by the manager, before awarding the performance rating.

During the year, the company introduced a cash-based Long-term Incentive plan applicable to leaders and key contributors up to several levels below the CEO. The plan was introduced keeping in mind the long-term aspirations of the organisation and rewards under this plan are linked to achievement of a few financial metrices. Additionally, non-financial parameters such as customer satisfaction, employee engagement and ESG performance are a part of this plan.

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

Approach to Safety

We prioritise the health and wellbeing of our employees, contractors, and service providers across all our facilities. Our Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems (OHSMS), underscores our proactive approach to risk management, providing a structured framework for identifying, evaluating, and controlling potential workplace hazards.

Our commitment to safety extends beyond the production floor. We prioritise a proactive approach by initially screening client molecules for potential EHS concerns before commencing production.

Once a molecule is approved for production, a thorough hazard identification and risk assessment (HAZOP or HIRA) study is conducted. This in-depth analysis involves a cross-functional team to identify potential hazards and environmental aspects associated with the manufacturing process. During this study, we engage in comprehensive discussions to evaluate these risks and develop recommendations to effectively mitigate them.

We have developed a concept of five pillars and four themes around our OHS framework to achieve our goal of Goal Zero

POLICY COMMITMENT

Our EHS policy, approved by the executive management, covers all our employees, contractors, and service providers across all our facilities. It outlines our comprehensive approach to environmental responsibility, occupational health and safety and sustainability and is available on our website.

EHS MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

We have implemented integrated EHS management system across our facilities. All our operational facilities are certified for ISO 45001(Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems), ISO 14001 (Environmental Management Systems) and hold BSC five-star audit certifications.

Our occupational health and safety management system covers all the following:

- All Employees: This includes full-time, part-time, and temporary employees engaged directly by Neuland Laboratories.
- Contract Workmen and Service Providers: We extend OHS protocols to all contractors, visitors, and service providers working within our premises, fulfilling our responsibility beyond direct employment.
- All Activities: Every activity performed within Neuland's control, from raw material handling and complex chemical synthesis to packaging, logistics, and maintenance, is subject to the stringent OHS framework. This applies to all routine operations, as well as non-routine tasks and emergency procedures.
- All Workplaces: All Neuland Laboratories, manufacturing units (e.g., Unit-I, Unit-II, Unit-III), R&D facilities, and corporate offices are fully integrated into the OHS management system. This ensures that the same rigorous safety standards apply uniformly across all sites.

Achieving Nil fatalities and Nil Lost Time Injuries in FY 2024-25 demonstrates our firm commitment to occupational health and safety.

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY PROCESSES

Workplace Risk Assessment
Regular and comprehensive assessments are conducted to identify potential risks and hazards entailing our operations, ensuring continuous improvement and safer workplace for everyone.

Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (HIRA) and Job Safety Analysis (JSA)
Involves systematic identification of hazards and assessment of associated risks using HIRA and JSA process, to further implement appropriate control measures.

Incident Management
Formal procedures are in place to promptly report all incidents to the relevant statutory authorities and internal teams and handle them effectively.

HAZOP (Hazard and Operability Study)
HAZOP studies are performed for thorough analysis of potential hazards and operational issues within our processes, ensuring a proactive approach to risk mitigation.

Permit-to-Work System
A rigorous permit-to-work system is enforced to regulate potentially hazardous tasks, ensuring proper authorisation and risk assessment before initiating any critical work.

EHS Assessment
We ensure the efficacy of our EHS management system through routine internal and external assessments against globally recognised standards, throughout the year.

Safety Risk Assessment

Once a molecule is approved for production, we perform an in-depth analysis to systematically identify hazards and assess risks using HAZOP or HIRA framework. This is carried out by a cross-functional team that identifies potential hazards and environmental aspects of the manufacturing process. During this study, we conduct discussions to evaluate these risks and develop effective recommendations for risk mitigation, on the basis of safety analysis and PSSR.

Hierarchy of Controls to Manage High Consequence Injury and Illness Hazards

At Neuland, we systematically identify and manage work-related hazards posing a risk of high-consequence injury, aiming for goal zero. Our robust Hazard Identification & Risk Assessment (HIRA) process, including Job Hazard Analysis and Process Hazard Analysis, determines these hazards. We evaluate risks using a matrix considering both severity and likelihood, prioritising those with potential for fatality or irreversible injury. Similarly, potential illness causing hazards are systematically identified through Occupational Hygiene Assessments, routine medical surveillance programmes, in-depth Hazard Identification and Risk Assessments (HIRA), Safety Data Sheet (SDS) reviews, and meticulous incident investigations.

We strictly follow the Hierarchy of Controls (Elimination, Substitution, Engineering Controls, Administrative Controls, and Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)) to manage the potential high-consequence hazards.

During FY 2024-25, Neuland Laboratories recorded no cases of high-consequence injuries and no cases of severe work-related ill health or occupational diseases resulting in long-term impairment.

Key hazards and the comprehensive actions taken or underway to minimise associated injury risks across our operations:

Potential High-Consequence Hazard	Hierarchy of Controls - Actions Taken/Underway
	Elimination/ Substitution	Engineering	Administrative	Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)

Psychosocial Hazards			Flexible work, EAPs, stress management, work-life balance

Incident Management

We have instituted procedures to promptly report the relevant statutory authorities and internal teams about the incident. A cross-functional team investigates the root causes, recommending the corrective and preventive actions (CAPA). The recommended actions are implemented and closely monitored through monthly reviews. To prevent recurrence, the underlying root causes are assessed across other sites and global CAPA is initiated for uniform implementation, where similar issues are identified.

Safety Measures

As a stringent and proactive safety evaluation measure, we screen client molecules for potential EHS concerns before initiating the production. This approach ensures only molecules meeting our rigorous safety criteria are selected, extending safety beyond the production floor.

EHS Assessment

The effectiveness of environment, health, and safety (EHS) management system across all our facilities is rigorously assessed, evaluated and monitored, adhering to ISO 45001:2018 and ISO 14001:2015 requirements. Throughout the year, we conduct routine EHS assessments through internal audits, inter-facility audits, and external third-party audits, ensuring regulatory compliance and continuous improvement. Consequently, there have been no significant workplace incidents or accidents recorded during the reporting period.

WORKERS PARTICIPATION AND CONSULTATION IN OH&S

At Neuland Laboratories, we hold Safety Committee meetings for communication to the Joint chief inspector of factories, which also include contractors, workmen, employees. All discussions during such meetings are duly recorded, along with the recommended actions, responsibilities and timelines to ensure compliance.

Joint Management-Worker Health and Safety Committees

Neuland Laboratories operates formal Joint Management-Worker Health and Safety Committees across all its manufacturing units and R&D facilities. These Committees provide a formal platform for workers to voice concerns, with all proceedings and recommended actions formally recorded and communicated, including to the Joint Chief Inspector of Factories.

Committee Composition

The Joint Management-Worker Health and Safety Committees Committee comprise representatives from senior management, safety officers, and nominated or elected workers from various departments, including direct employees and contract associates. This broad representation ensures comprehensive perspectives. The Committees hold the authority to recommend essential corrective and preventive actions and safety measures and can escalate unresolved issues for immediate management attention. Crucially, all workers are represented within these committees, with no exclusions, reinforcing Neuland's commitment to inclusive and robust OHS management.

CUSTOMER-CENTRICITY: BUILDING VALUE, STRENGTHENING STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS

What makes Neuland a strategic partner of choice is not just what we do – it's how we do it. Our ability to combine scientific rigour with operational agility, and customer focus with compliance, allows us to build enduring partnerships grounded in trust, reliability, and shared success.

Neuland stands out as a strategic partner of choice not just because of what we do, but because of how we do it. Our unique ability to blend scientific rigour with operational agility, and our unwavering commitment to customer focus and compliance, enables us to forge enduring partnerships. These partnerships are built on a foundation of trust, reliability, and shared success, ensuring that we consistently deliver exceptional value to our clients.

Customer-centricity is both a strategic priority and a fundamental aspect of Neuland's culture. As a pure-play API manufacturer, we do not compete with our customers in the generics space – fostering conflict-free, transparent partnerships. Over the years, we have transitioned from being a reliable supplier partner to a strategic partner committed to ensuring the success of our customer's project.

A Structured Approach to Customer Engagement

In the field of APIs and contract manufacturing, success is predicated on comprehending customers' needs and consistently fulfilling them. At Neuland, a customer-centric approach prioritises the needs, preferences, and satisfaction of the customer in all decision-making processes.

Neuland's Annual Customer Satisfaction programme is a structured engagement initiative designed to evaluate customer experience (CX) and formulate well-defined improvement plans. These efforts aim to translate feedback into actionable enhancements, reinforcing alignment and responsiveness across functions, thereby maintaining the trust that customers have in Neuland.

Scientific Expertise That Scales with Customer Needs

Our strength lies in our ability to solve complex chemistry challenges at scale. Over the years, we have strategically evolved our portfolio to focus on high-value, scientifically demanding molecules. These include Specialty APIs, New Chemical Entities (NCEs), and Peptides. Our team of chemists, engineers, and project leads – backed by decades of process development and regulatory experience – brings deep expertise that customers can rely on. This enables us to support partners from early development through commercial supply, while maintaining speed, consistency, and compliance.

Creating Value Through Innovation and Technology

We continue to expand our capabilities in cutting-edge technologies valued by our partners, such as bio-catalysis, flow chemistry, and particle engineering. Our enhanced process engineering labs, adoption of Electronic Lab Notebooks (ELNBs), and specialised focus on co-crystals and polymorphs improve the quality and reproducibility of outcomes. In FY 2024-25, we filed six US DMFs based on proprietary innovation – demonstrating our ability to co-create differentiated solutions for complex molecules.

Uncompromising on Quality and Compliance

Our quality systems are designed for perpetual readiness – enabling us to exceed global compliance standards. In FY 2024-25, Neuland completed over 80 customer audits without a single critical observation. We also successfully completed major inspections, including a zero 483 USFDA audit. Our approach blends ongoing regulatory training, proactive monitoring of cGMP trends, and timely implementation of CAPAs. This ensures quality is built into every process and touchpoint, not simply inspected in.

Protecting What Matters: Data and IP

Customer trust is grounded in confidentiality – and at Neuland, safeguarding sensitive information is non-negotiable. Our cybersecurity and data governance practices are aligned with international best practices and reinforced by our ISO 27001:2022 certification, which reflects our adherence to globally recognised information security standards. In FY 2024-25, we reported zero data breaches, underscoring the robustness of our controls and the seriousness with which we protect client data and intellectual property.

SUPPLIER RELATIONSHIPS: BUILDING A RESPONSIBLE AND RESILIENT VALUE CHAIN

AT NEULAND, SUPPLIER PARTNERSHIPS ARE ESSENTIAL FOR DELIVERING QUALITY, ENSURING COMPLIANCE, AND FOSTERING SUSTAINABLE INNOVATION. THEY ARE FUNDAMENTAL TO OUR VALUE CREATION.

As dedicated Contract Development and Manufacturing Organisation (CDMO), we operate in a complex global ecosystem where the robustness and responsiveness of our supply chain is paramount to achieving optimal customer outcomes. That's why we are strategically engaged with our suppliers, assess their capabilities, and foster collaborative growth. Beyond meeting expectations, we focus on building a value chain that is resilient, transparent, and fully aligned with our sustainability commitments.

Integrating Sustainability into Sourcing

Responsible sourcing is an essential part of our ESG roadmap. All suppliers undergo rigorous qualification processes, which include on-site or remote audits to assess their environmental practices, labour conditions, and quality systems.

We prioritise partners who have strong sustainability credentials and possess globally recognised certifications such as ISO 9001 (Quality Management), ISO 14001 (Environmental Management), ISO 45001 (Occupational Health & Safety), and ISO 50001 (Energy Management Systems). We also consider regulatory accreditations like EIR and KFDA as part of our supplier selection and evaluation process.

From FY 2025-26, we propose to carry out a structured ESG performance review for key suppliers using the EcoVadis framework. This will allow us to benchmark sustainability outcomes, track improvements, and enhance supplier transparency across areas such as environmental impact, safety culture, and ethical governance. Moreover, > 63% of raw materials are sourced locally (<800km) to reduce carbon miles.

Our sourcing philosophy is guided by our values of reciprocity and responsiveness, ensuring that our suppliers are not just compliant, but aligned with Neuland's vision for sustainable growth.

Focus Areas for Supplier ESG Evaluation

- Occupational safety and employee well-being
- Environmental certifications and performance
- Ethics, governance, and transparency
- Contribution to Neuland's net-zero goals

Greener Logistics and Smarter Procurement

Aligned with our broader Scope 3 roadmap, Neuland is working to reduce emissions from downstream logistics and transport through route optimisation, multi-modal freight systems and low emission transport partnerships. We are also exploring collaborations with global logistics companies that use Sustainable Aviation Fuel (SAF), aiming to cut freight-related emissions by up to 90%.

In procurement, we have implemented a technology-enabled, participative sourcing model that ensures transparency, traceability, and fairness in all supplier interactions. Our digital platforms support proactive risk assessments and spend analytics, enabling informed and agile decision-making. Looking ahead, we are investing in AI-based tools for predictive sourcing, supplier risk intelligence, and performance monitoring dashboards - strengthening both sourcing agility and overall supply chain resilience.

Strengthening Governance and Trust

Neuland's Supplier Code of Conduct covers six areas: adherence to laws and regulations, business ethics, human rights and employment practices, environmental protection and safety, international trade compliance, and data privacy. We strive to ensure that all our suppliers - including those providing raw materials and packaging - are fully committed to upholding this Code.

Further, our Supplier code of conduct requires that suppliers respect the legal rights of employees to join or refrain from joining worker organisations, such as trade unions.

Our Supplier code of conduct is can be accessed by all from our Company's website.

Supplier interactions are supported through structured engagement and connect sessions, where we provide feedback, address queries, and align on performance expectations. These regular touchpoints help reinforce mutual trust, surface areas for improvement, and strengthen long-term alignment with Neuland's strategic goals.

Advancing Resilience and Climate Preparedness

In FY 2024-25, we enhanced our commitment to climate-aligned supply chain practices. In collaboration with CII-IGBC, we launched a comprehensive GHG inventorisation drive across our leading suppliers - specifically those responsible for 70% of our procurement by value and 90% by volume, successfully meeting the year's target for supplier emissions coverage.

This programme involved segmenting suppliers based on volume, value, and complexity, supported by capacity-building webinars, in-depth training sessions, and a data platform from a third-party provider.

We worked closely with our suppliers and guided them through data submission process to ensure accuracy. Emissions were calculated using a combination of supplier-provided data, the Ecoinvent database, and publicly available BRSR reports. The inventorisation exercise covered over 60% of Neuland's total GHG emissions.

The results have been disclosed across leading global frameworks including SBTi, CDP, and EcoVadis. By November 2025, we aim to finalise near- and long-term Scope 3 emission reduction targets, supported by actionable, supplier-led decarbonisation projects.

As part of this engagement, suppliers are also encouraged to adopt green chemistry principles, optimise energy use, and implement clean technologies - further aligning their operations with Neuland's net-zero ambitions.

At Neuland Labs, we recognise that sustainable development is critical to our long-term success and value creation. As we navigate through dynamic market landscapes, our governance body is deeply committed to aligning our business strategy with sustainable development goals. Our vision focusses on balancing economic growth, environmental responsibility, and social impact, ensuring that our operations, products, and services contribute positively to society and the environment. In the short term, our strategic priorities include minimising environmental impacts through enhanced energy efficiency and water conservation, advancing our sustainability targets, and fostering ethical business practices. Over the medium and long term, we aim to scale innovations in sustainable pharmaceuticals, reduce emissions across our supply chain, and expand access to essential medicines globally.

EHS Team Structure

At Neuland, we are dedicated to excellence in environment, health, and safety (EHS), and we prioritise environmental protection, the prevention of occupational illnesses, and injury prevention as core corporate responsibilities. EHS stewardship is embedded in our organisational framework and drives our decision-making and continuous assessment of EHS-related risks.

Our management systems are designed to focus on resource conservation, pollution prevention, and the protection of worker health. Through robust implementation, we effectively manage key EHS indicators such as freshwater usage, waste generation, CO_2 emissions, and work-related injuries.

We conduct monthly reviews through a structured "EHS MIS" process leading to monitoring our performance by the Leadership. This is further supported by internal mechanisms such as corporate EHS guidelines and audits. EHS has now been seamlessly integrated into our change management system, ensuring that all our operations continue to prioritise EHS considerations.

Our EHS department focusses on:

- Environmental Protection Services: We develop and deliver environmental products and services for all Neuland stakeholders by managing environmental programmes and providing technical assistance on environmental requirements.
- Health and Safety Services: We are committed to delivering high-quality, safe processes to both internal and external customers, particularly in the fields of industrial hygiene and safety.

Levers For Net Zero Roadmap

Energy Efficiency Measures

We are investing in energy-efficient equipment and technologies and optimising our manufacturing processes to enhance energy efficiency and reduce emissions.

The Company invested around ₹ 9.2 crore on equipment for energy conservation. During the year, the following energy efficiency measures were undertaken:

- Under performing and high energy consuming vacuum pumps were replaced with new vacuum pumps
- To minimise the Liquid nitrogen consumption (-50 Deg C) Brine chilling plants installation initiated
- Replaced old less energy-efficient motors with energy-efficient IE3 motors
- Automatic tube cleaning systems installed in refrigeration plants which resulted in reduction of energy consumption
- Under performing refrigerant compressor replaced with new refrigerant compressor
- Water jet vacuum pumps replaced with new dry vacuum pumps to minimise the operation cycle times
- Localised capacitor banks are installed at MCC's to minimise the transmission losses in power

Additionally, as alternate source of energy generated via coal, 1.08 MT of Biomass briquettes was used in place of coal.

Tracking, Monitoring and Reporting

We have established defined metrics and KPIs to track and monitor progress against the emission reduction goals.

We ensure credibility of our emissions data, reduction strategies, including carbon offset projects by obtaining verification through independent third-party organisations. The stakeholders are provided with regular disclosures via sustainability reporting aligned with global frameworks such as the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) or the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD).

Stakeholder Engagement

We engage with our key stakeholders, including employees, customers, and suppliers, to promote sustainability initiatives, gather feedback, and align them with our sustainability commitments. We also engage with industry partners, government bodies and non-governmental organisations for collective action.

Continuous Improvement

We invest in research and development to innovate ways to reduce environmental impacts and ensure operations sustainable. We regularly review and update our sustainability targets and strategies to stay relevant.

ADDRESSING CLIMATE CHANGE

OUR AMBITION IS TO BECOME A NET ZERO EMISSION COMPANY, WITH INTERIM TARGETS SET FOR 2034.

NET ZERO

Neuland Laboratories is actively working to align its climate and environmental initiatives with global sustainability frameworks such as the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi), the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs), and various regulatory guidelines.

Neuland Labs is diligently working towards the validation of its near-term and net-zero greenhouse gas (GHG) emission targets.

The SBTi, a leading corporate climate action organisation, provides a framework for companies worldwide to combat the climate crisis. By developing standards, tools, and guidance, the SBTi ensures that companies set GHG emissions reduction targets aligned with the latest climate science, contributing to limiting global warming to well below 1.5°C and achieving net-zero by 2050 at the latest.

We collected the data for energy consumption and greenhouse gas emissions across our production processes and supply chain, covering Scope 1, Scope 2, and Scope 3 categories. A detailed analysis setting FY 2023-24 as the baseline year has better equipped us to formulate and implement targeted strategies for reducing our environmental footprint and achieving our Net Zero goals. We submitted our carbon neutral and net zero targets to SBTi for validation and are awaiting results. Regular reviews and the ability to adjust targets based on new data and technological advancements are essential for continuous improvement.

Our journey towards setting science-based targets is a testament to our team's dedication and our company's long-term vision. We recognise the importance of aligning our operations with global efforts to mitigate climate change, and we are committed to achieving meaningful reductions in our carbon footprint. Implementing a robust management system is crucial to ensure we reach these ambitious goals. We will continue to prioritise transparency and stakeholder engagement throughout this process.

WE ARE SIGNATORIES TO THE UNITED NATIONS GLOBAL COMPACT (UNGC) SINCE SEPTEMBER 2022, AND OUR SUSTAINABILITY EFFORTS ALIGN WITH ITS TEN PRINCIPLES.

UN GLOBAL COMPACT

ENERGY MANAGEMENT

Optimising energy consumption through energy-efficient measures, operational efficiencies, electrification and fuel efficiency is our primary focus. We have taken the following energy optimisation initiatives across our plants and operations:

~383 TJ

Total energy consumption in FY 2024-25, up by 1.7% from FY 2023-24

Pressure-Based Control Mechanism

High energy consumption pumps now use a pressure-based control mechanism to minimise energy use according to requirement variations at the end use.

Auto Cut-Off Provision

Auto cut-off provisions have been introduced for all utility and process cooling towers to ensure minimum power consumption as needed.

Power Factor Optimisation

Measures have been taken to ensure the power factor is optimised, reducing transmission losses in distribution networks.

Variable Frequency Drives

Variable frequency drives have been installed to maintain minimum power consumption where requirements are inconsistent with the process.

Boiler Automation

Automation has been introduced in boiler operations to ensure they operate at an optimum state.

Reductions in Energy

At Neuland, our commitment to reducing energy consumption remains a key focus as we strive for operational efficiency and sustainability.

Our goal is to maintain a balanced approach that optimises both energy use and product quality, aligning with our long-term objectives of minimising environmental impact while enhancing business performance.

These actions are part of a broader strategy to ensure that Neuland not only meets but exceeds global energy efficiency standards, driving sustainability across our value chain.

Energy Consumption

Energy Indicators	Unit	FY 2022-23	FY 2023-24	FY 2024-25
Power consumption	TJ	130.2	144.2	153.80
Fuel consumption
Diesel	TJ	10.59	9.48	9.99
Coal	TJ	403.93	223.69	216.18
LPG	TJ	0.24	1.28	2.95
Total energy consumption	TJ	545.01	377.16	383.37
Energy intensity	TJ/Revenue in ₹ million	0.05	0.02	0.03
Energy intensity	TJ/Per tonne of Product		0.81	0.86

Note: Previous year's numbers (FY 2023-24) have been rectified, following change in the calorific value assumptions considered for coal. Revenue and production-based intensity ratios are calculated organisation-wide, and not site by site. No energy is consumed outside the organisation.

Energy consumption during FY 2024-25 increased sligthly due to the construction of a new block, the setup of dedicated workstations for certain products with entirely new utility systems, and the installation and operational testing of equipment prior to batch production. Additionally, ongoing expansion and renovation activities within the manufacturing units contributed to the rise in energy usage. These combined factors led to a spike in overall energy consumption.

EMISSIONS MANAGEMENT

At Neuland Laboratories, we are implementing systems to track our emissions for accurate reporting. Regular reviews to track progress against the Science-based emission reduction targets will enable us to make adjustments and refinements as needed. We engage with our key stakeholders at all levels, including employees, suppliers, and customers, to gather feedback, and implement emission reduction strategies successfully. Regular monitoring and reporting help identify areas for improvement and ensure progress towards sustainability goals.

Our GHG Footprint

Scope 1

Direct Emissions

Our Scope 1 emissions come from stationary combustion (diesel generators, boilers), mobile combustion (company vehicles), and fugitive emissions (refrigerants) and are calculated using emission factors from IPCC and ASHRAE standards.

Scope 2

Direct Emissions

Our Scope 2 emissions are primarily from grid electricity consumption, calculation using a location-based approach and emission factors from the CO_2 Baseline Database for the Indian Power Sector.

Scope 3

Indirect Emissions

Purchased Goods and Services, Capital Goods, Fuel and Energy-related Activities, Upstream Transportation and Distribution, Waste Generated in Operations, Business Travel, Employee Commuting, Leased Assets, and Downstream Transportation are included under our Scope 3 greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions reporting, in alignment with the GHG Protocol guidelines. Significant portion of our Scope 3 data comes from our supply chain. Consequently, we are committed to engaging in and collaborating with our suppliers to implement effective strategies for meaningful reduction of supply chain emissions.

Air Quality Improvement Initiatives

Neuland Laboratories has implemented several key strategies and initiatives to improve air quality. Here are some of the main approaches:

Emission Control Systems

- Scrubbers and Filters
  Installing advanced scrubbers and filters to capture and reduce harmful emissions from manufacturing processes
- Regular Maintenance
  Ensuring regular maintenance of emission control systems to maintain their efficiency and effectiveness

Green Chemistry

- Safer Chemicals
  Using safer, non-toxic chemicals in manufacturing processes to reduce the release of hazardous substances
- Waste Minimisation
  Implementing green chemistry principles to minimise waste generation and improve overall environmental performance

Monitoring and Reporting

- Continuous Monitoring Utilising advanced monitoring systems to continuously track air quality and emissions levels
- Transparency
  Regularly publishing sustainability reports that detail progress in reducing GHG emissions and improving air quality

Refrigerant Management

In line with best practices for managing high global warming potential (GWP) substances, we have initiated the replacement of R-22 refrigerant with R-404a in our HVAC systems. This transition not only improves our system efficiency but also reduces the environmental impact associated with refrigerant leaks and usage.

Emission Control Systems

We are deploying advanced scrubbers and filters in our manufacturing processes to capture and minimise harmful emissions. Timely maintenance of emission control systems ensures efficiency and effectiveness.

By implementing these strategies and initiatives, Neuland Laboratories aims to significantly reduce its environmental footprint and contribute to a healthier, more sustainable future.

Green Chemistry

We are prioritising safer, non-toxic chemicals in manufacturing processes to minimise the release of hazardous substances. We are also applying green chemistry principles to minimise waste and improve the overall environmental footprint.

Monitoring and Reporting

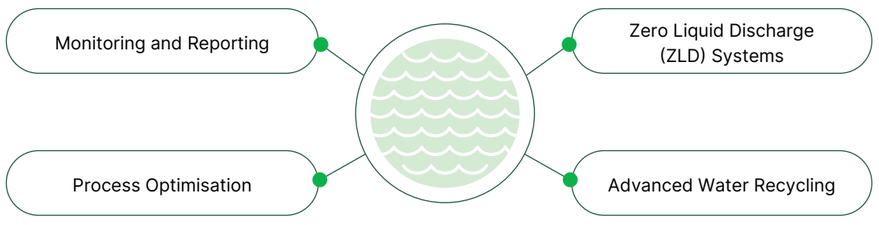

We leverage advanced monitoring systems to track air quality and emissions levels and provide transparent public disclosures through our sustainability reporting.

RESPONSIBLE WATER MANAGEMENT

Water Efficiency Target

Air Pollutants (in tonnes)	Consumption in FY 2023-24	Consumption in FY 2024-25
Water Consumption	1,28,000 KL	1,41,037 KL

Approach To Water Efficiency

Committed to minimising our water footprint, we have implemented sustainable water management practices. Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD) technology across our manufacturing plants ensures that no liquid waste is discharged into the environment. We have optimised our operations using green chemistry principles and efficient equipment for water efficiency, conservation and minimisation of water wastage.

Being in notified industrial areas, ground water restoration or usage is not feasible.

We conduct water audits, and reviews both internally as well as through independent third-party, to ensure continuous improvement and compliance with national and international environmental regulations and standards. We transparently update our key stakeholders on our water performance.

In FY 2024-25, We carried out a water conservation study in Unit-III, and determined opportunities to conserve water. We plan to deploy the feasible recommendations in all our locations.

Additionally, during the year, a waterbody rejuvenation project was initiated by the Company that aims at balancing ~50% of FY 2024-25's water consumption by FY 2028-29

Case study

Advanced Water Recycling

We have implemented advanced effluent treatment processes incorporating sophisticated filtration and purification technologies. This enabled us to recycle 87% of our wastewater and reuse it directly within our manufacturing processes. The remaining 13% of wastewater that cannot be recycled is efficiently treated using Multiple-Effect Evaporation technology, converting it into solid waste for safe disposal.

Impact

These systems have significantly improved our water efficiency, reducing our reliance on freshwater resources.

89.54 KL

WASTE MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULAR ECONOMY

We have embraced a multi-pronged approach for responsible waste management to lower our environmental footprint. We safely dispose hazardous materials in compliance with national and international regulations.

Waste Reduction and Management

01 Use green chemistry in process design to minimise material use and hazardous waste

02 Use safer and non-toxic chemicals to reduce hazardous waste

03 Design lean and efficient manufacturing processes to reduce hazardous waste at source

04 Segregate recyclable from non-recyclable waste to avoid contamination

Exposure to Hazardous Material Substances

At Neuland Laboratories, we have undertaken several initiatives to minimise both hazardous and non-hazardous waste across our manufacturing operations. Below are some of the key strategies we are implementing:

Green Chemistry

Principles: We are adopting green chemistry principles to design processes that minimise the use and generation of hazardous substances.

Safer Alternatives: We actively seek and use safer, non-toxic alternatives in our chemical processes to reduce the volume and toxicity of hazardous waste.

Process Optimisation

Efficiency: We are optimising our manufacturing processes to reduce the generation of hazardous waste right at the source.

Waste Treatment: We have implemented advanced waste treatment technologies to neutralise hazardous waste before it is disposed of, ensuring safer and more responsible handling.

BIODIVERSITY

At Neuland Laboratories, we recognise that biodiversity is not only a global environmental priority but also a critical component of sustainable pharmaceutical manufacturing. Our operations are guided by a deep commitment to preserving ecological balance and ensuring that our growth does not come at the cost of nature.

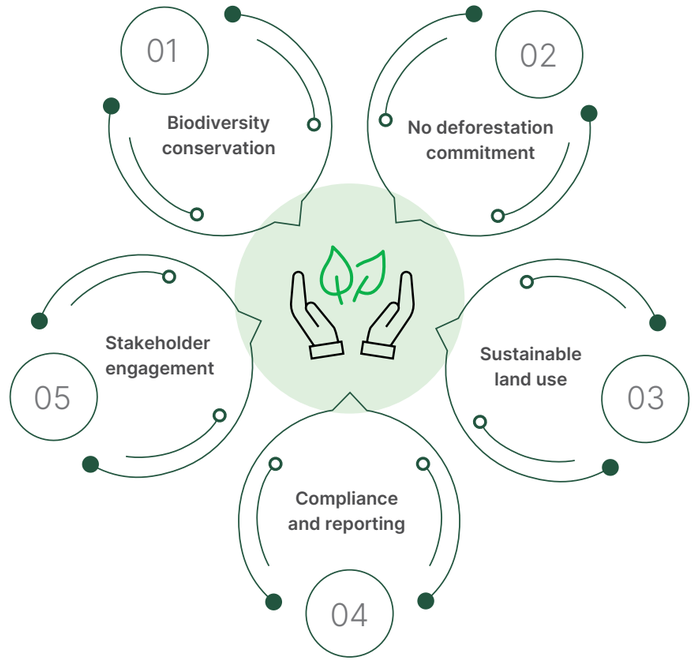

Understanding and Managing Biodiversity Impacts

In FY 2024-25, Neuland Labs undertook a comprehensive biodiversity assessment across all operational sites (Units I, II, III and R&D), located in Hyderabad. In collaboration with accredited environmental consultants, we conducted a biodiversity assessment using desk-based reviews, site-specific surveys including tools like the Integrated Biodiversity Assessment Tool - IBAT, and stakeholder consultations. The assessment confirmed that our activities comply with applicable environmental norms and pose no significant threat to local biodiversity. The scope of this assessment excluded supply chain partners. The study also helped us identify potential areas of influence, both direct and indirect, on surrounding ecosystems. Our biodiversity assessment report can be accessed from our website.

We have integrated biodiversity considerations into our Environmental Management System (EMS), ensuring that any new project or expansion undergoes a biodiversity impact screening. This proactive approach allows us to mitigate risks early and adopt nature-positive practices.

Commitment to Biodiversity

Our Biodiversity and No Deforestation commitment outlines our proposed actions that protect ecosystems and promote environmental stewardship with focus on the following:

Locations and Drivers of Biodiversity Impact

While our manufacturing sites are located in an industrial zone with limited natural habitats, we remain vigilant about potential indirect impacts such as air emissions, wastewater discharge, and resource consumption.

As part of our biodiversity assessment, we identified two eco-sensitive areas located outside our operational boundaries – Jinnaram Reserve Forest and Manjira Wildlife Sanctuary. Our operations do not have any direct impact on any critical habitats or endangered species in these areas.

We have identified the following potential drivers of biodiversity loss relevant to our operations:

- Land use change due to infrastructure development
- Water use and discharge affecting aquatic ecosystems
- Emissions and waste generation

Mitigation measures, including zero liquid discharge (ZLD) systems, green belt development, and strict waste segregation protocols, are in place to address these drivers.

Our future biodiversity goals would be aligned to maintaining sensitivity and compliance to above drivers in our operations and gradually include supply chain partners.

LIFE CYCLE ASSESSMENT

In FY 2024-25, we completed life cycle assessment (LCA) for our Ciprofloxacin HCL family of products and initiated LCA for another product, Mitrazapine. Our LCA report is hosted on our website

Management Discussion and Analysis

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

In 2024, the world economy grew 3.3%, maintaining the pace of growth, despite continued geopolitical tensions. Shifting geopolitical developments, trade fluctuations and inflationary trends shaped the global economy. Growth was not uniform across countries with robust momentum in the US in contrast to slower growth witnessed in the Euro region. Proactive policy measures and sustained investments provided resilience, enabling economies to navigate an evolving global environment.

Total Income (₹ in crore)

Source: IMF Economic Outlook, January 2025

Global inflation decreased from 6.8% in 2023 to 5.7% in 2024. Inflation is further expected to decline to 4.3% in 2025 and 3.6% in 2026. Advanced economies are likely to meet their inflation targets before emerging and developing markets.

Advanced economies are expected to witness moderate growth at 1.4% in 2025 and 1.5% in 2026 similar to 1.7% and 1.8% growth witnessed in 2023 and 2024 respectively. The US economy is expected to grow at 1.8% in 2025 and 1.7% in 2026, lower than 2.8% in 2024 and 2.9% in 2023. The Euro Area is showing gradual improvement in economic growth from 0.4% in 2023 to 0.9% in 2024, 0.8% in 2025 to 1.2% in 2026. Emerging Markets and Developing Economies (EMDEs), led by China and India, grew at 4.3% in 2024 and are projected to witness steady growth at 3.7% and 3.9%, respectively in 2025 and 2026.

Outlook

In 2025 and 2026, growth is projected at 2.8% and 3% respectively with expectations of pick-up in growth in the US which will offset the continued slowdown in the Euro area. US's new policy implementations need to be closely monitored post the 90-day hiatus, as they will have a significant impact on global trade. US tax cuts could boost the US economic growth. The response of trade partners in retaliation to US' cross-border tariffs of 10% will alter the landscape of global trade. Continued geopolitical tensions could play out in patterns which are distinct from the past and have to be closely monitored.

INDIAN ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Despite ongoing geopolitical turmoil across the globe, India has shown resilience and sustained growth momentum. As per the Second Advance Estimates of GDP, India's GDP growth was expected at 6.5% in FY 2024-25, much lower than 9.2% GDP growth in FY 2023-24. Slower GDP growth in the first half of the year is attributable to lower industrial activity. Election uncertainties in the first quarter followed by a modest activity in construction and manufacturing in the subsequent quarter due to weather-related disruptions led to weaker-than-expected gross fixed capital formation. Though both private consumption and government spending witnessed significant uptick, RBI's monetary policy stance was weak given slow economic activity. Inflation in November 2024 at 5.8% was well above RBI's target of 4%. It is expected that rural consumption, government expenditure, investment, and strong services exports would lead to a pickup in GDP in the second half of the financial year. The IMF projects India's economy to grow at 6.2% in 2025 and 6.3% in 2026, aligning with global trends of steady growth and declining inflation, though growth in 2024 slowed due to deceleration in industrial activity.

GLOBAL PHARMACEUTICAL INDUSTRY

Post Covid-19, the pharmaceuticals market has been witnessing a major transformation driven by increasing significance of digitalisation and integration of AI tools and solutions in R&D activities. There is an increased focus from players around the world on novel drug therapies. In 2023, the global pharmaceutical market was estimated at US$ 1,661.3 billion and it increased to US$ 1,763.9 billion in 2024. Increased R&D spending, rising prevalence of various chronic conditions, growing geriatric population prone to various age-related disorders, along with increasing healthcare expenditure in emerging countries are some other major factors aiding global pharmaceutical market growth. The market is expected to grow at 7.5% CAGR to US$ 3,148.3 billion by 2032. The rising global prevalence of chronic conditions, especially cancer, diabetes, and others, is adding to the patient population. With the growing awareness and diagnosis of infectious diseases, the need for vaccines, personalised drugs, and therapies is also on the rise. There is a rapid growth in per capita healthcare expenditure in developed and emerging countries which is expected to continue.

7. Statement by director responsible for the business responsibility report, highlighting ESG related challenges, targets, and achievements (listed entity has flexibility regarding the placement of this disclosure)	Our ESG journey is at the heart of our identity as a responsible corporate citizen and is fundamentally about integrating sustainability into our core thinking. We aim to embed this philosophy deeply across the organisation, from leadership to the very last person, promoting a collective responsibility for sustainable practices. We believe our ESG focus is a key driver for long-term value creation for all our stakeholders. As we move forward, we understand that there are challenges—both internal and external—that we must address. Our highly regulated industry limits our ability to make quick, large-scale changes. Also, we recognise the critical role that supportive government policies and incentives can play, particularly in areas like renewable energy transitions in making significant capital investments. This year, in line with our climate goals, we completed our CDP submissions and are actively working on our Science-Based Targets initiative (SBTi) to align with global climate standards. Additionally, we are intensifying our efforts in green chemistry, focused on replacing solvents with water-based solutions. We also completed the Life Cycle Assessment (LCA) of one of our products. We are adding more to our Green Chemistry and LCA goals in the coming year. Workplace safety continues to be a top priority, and we're committed to maintaining our strong safety performance record. All of our sites are certified by the British Safety Council for excellence in Occupational Health and Safety systems. On the societal side, we remain committed to improving healthcare, empowering women, and promoting rural development, education, and skill enhancement through our social impact projects. We are deeply committed to upholding high standards of corporate governance, transparency, accountability, and ethical conduct throughout our operations. During the year, we've made meaningful progress in both our S&P and EcoVadis ratings, in addition to baselining our CDP rating, and also enhanced certifications from British Safety Council, reflecting our ongoing commitment to sustainability and ESG best practices.

Our goal is for all suppliers to commit to this code of conduct. Additionally, we encourage our suppliers to obtain valid ISO 9001, ISO 14001, and ISO 45001 certifications.

3. Describe the processes in place to safely reclaim your products for reusing, recycling, and disposing at the end of life, for (a) Plastics (including packaging) (b) E-waste (c) Hazardous waste and (d) other waste.

We have established the standard operating procedure for Hazardous, Non-Hazardous waste and general waste Management is in place.

Hazardous Waste Management:

Our company generates various types of hazardous waste, including evaporation salt, process salt, spent carbon, ETP sludge, insulation waste, spent mixed solvents, used oil, and used PPE. Non-hazardous waste includes plastic, paper, glass, and empty drums, which are responsibly managed through recycling or coprocessing with approved recyclers.

We strictly follow the Hazardous Waste Management Rules of 2016. We ensure proper collection, detoxification and containment using MS drums or double-layer polythene bags, clearly labelled for identification. Only trained personnel handle hazardous waste to maintain safety and control. We employ co-processing in cement kilns as an environmentally sustainable option for disposing of various wastes, including hazardous ones. This method not only destroys the waste at high temperatures (up to 1450°C) but also incorporates the inorganic content into the clinker, leaving no residues. Co-processing also neutralises acidic gases within the kiln's alkaline environment and reduces the need for non-renewable resources like coal and limestone.

Our waste management system achieved Zero waste to landfill with platinum diversion rate in FY 2024, assuring 100% is diverted to co-processing and recycling initiatives.

E-Waste Management:

Managing e-waste responsibly is crucial due to its hazardous nature and potential environmental and health risks. Our measures include:

- E-Waste Collection Programs: Implementing collection programs within our facilities to ensure proper disposal of obsolete or broken electronic equipment.
- E-Waste Recycling: Partnering with certified e-waste recycling facilities to dismantle devices, separate components, and safely dispose of hazardous substances.
- Reuse and Refurbishment: Refurbishing and reusing functional electronic equipment within the organisation.
- Proper Disposal of Hazardous Materials: Safely disposing of hazardous materials like lead, mercury, cadmium, and brominated flame retardants in compliance with regulations.
- Compliance with E-Waste Regulations: Adhering to local and international e-waste regulations, including collection, recycling, disposal, and reporting requirements.
- Vendor Selection and Due Diligence: Carefully selecting and vetting e-waste recycling vendors to ensure they meet environmental and safety standards.
- Employee Training and Awareness: Educating employees on proper e-waste disposal and its environmental and health impacts.
- E-Waste Reporting and Tracking: Maintaining records of e-waste generated, collected, and disposed of for compliance and reporting purposes.

Plastic and Other Waste Management:

We have established recycling programs to capture and recycle materials such as plastic, paper, glass, and metals. Additionally, we invest in resource recovery technologies to extract value from waste streams through processes such as composting, anaerobic digestion, and material recovery.

By implementing these measures, we ensure responsible e-waste management, minimise environmental and health risks, and contribute to the circular economy by promoting the reuse and recycling of electronic materials.

4. Whether Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) is applicable to the entity's activities (Yes / No). If yes, whether the waste collection plan is in line with the Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) plan submitted to Pollution Control Boards? If not, provide steps taken to address the same.

Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) is currently not applicable to Neuland in the context of its core manufacturing activities. However, as a responsible organisation, we have proactively registered for EPR as an importer and have obtained the necessary approval from the Pollution Control Board (PCB). Our waste collection plan is in line with the EPR plan submitted to PCB.

However, in some of our operations we recover the spent solvent through solvent recovery system and reclaim certain catalysts and reuse the same in our processes.

Strict enforcement of safety regulations and guidelines is one of the primary measures taken to address safety incidents, with regular inspections and audits conducted to ensure compliance. Training programs are also implemented to educate employees on safety practices, raising awareness about potential workplace hazards and providing them with necessary skills to prevent accidents and injuries.

Incident reporting systems are in place to encourage employees to report safety concerns promptly, facilitating prompt investigation and resolution of issues before they escalate. In cases where significant risks are identified, proactive measures such as thorough risk assessments, additional safety protocols, provision of personal protective equipment (PPE), or facility/equipment modifications are implemented to mitigate these risks.

Overall, Neuland places a high priority on ensuring the health and safety of its workforce and community members. Through proactive measures and prompt corrective actions, we aim to create a safe and secure environment for all individuals.

To conserve natural resources and protect the environment, Neuland has implemented Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD) systems across all its manufacturing facilities. These systems are designed to ensure that all wastewater generated during operations is treated, recycled, and reused within the facility, leaving no liquid effluent for external discharge. The ZLD process typically involves multiple stages, including primary treatment, ultrafiltration, reverse osmosis, and evaporation, followed by crystallisation to recover usable water and safely manage residual solids. By adopting this closed-loop water management system, Neuland effectively eliminates the risk of water pollution, complies with stringent regulatory norms, and reinforces its commitment to environmental sustainability.

8. Does the entity have any project related to reducing Green House Gas emission? If yes, then provide details.

Yes, we have undertaken multiple initiatives aimed at reducing greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions across our operations, addressing both Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions through fuel optimisation, energy conservation, and nature-based solutions.

Scope 1 Emission Reduction Initiatives:

Fuel Transition:

As part of our decarbonisation efforts, we are actively exploring cleaner fuel alternatives. One such initiative involves blending 10% biomass briquettes with coal in boiler operations. This fuel transition aims to reduce direct fossil fuel usage, thereby lowering Scope 1 emissions when compared to previous years.

Refrigerant Management:
In line with best practices for managing high global warming potential (GWP) substances, we have initiated the replacement of R-22 refrigerant with R-404a in its HVAC systems. This transition not only improves system efficiency but also reduces the environmental impact associated with refrigerant leaks and usage.

Scope 2 Emission Reduction Initiatives:

Electricity Conservation:
We have implemented multiple energy-saving measures across our facilities, including LED lighting upgrades, energy-efficient motors, power factor correction systems, and process optimisation, all contributing to a tangible reduction in purchased electricity consumption, thereby reducing Scope 2 emissions.

Comprehensive Energy Audit:
A detailed energy audit was conducted at our Unit 1 to analyse power consumption trends, identify inefficiencies, and recommend actionable solutions for improvement. Based on the insights gained, the company plans to replicate this audit methodology across all sites, enabling a broader implementation of energy-saving practices company-wide.

Afforestation and Reforestation Projects:
As part of our commitment to natural climate solutions, we have undertaken tree plantation drives and reforestation of degraded land around its operational sites. These efforts not only improve local biodiversity and ecosystem services but also contribute to carbon sequestration, thereby helping offset a portion of our GHG emissions.

10. Briefly describe the waste management practices adopted in your establishments. Describe the strategy adopted by your company to reduce usage of hazardous and toxic chemicals in your products and processes and the practices adopted to manage such wastes.

At Neuland, waste management is guided by a comprehensive Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) that ensures the safe and sustainable handling of all waste categories—hazardous, non-hazardous, and general waste. Our approach emphasises strict adherence to the Hazardous Waste Management Rules, 2016, particularly for materials such as evaporation salt, process salt, and spent carbon. These are carefully collected by trained personnel using appropriately labelled MS drums or double-layer polythene bags to ensure safe containment and traceability.

A key element of our waste strategy is the co-processing of hazardous waste in cement kilns, which not only prevents landfill accumulation but also promotes resource recovery and circularity. Additionally, our facilities implement rigorous waste segregation, recycling, and tracking mechanisms to ensure environmental compliance and minimise ecological impact.

Our commitment to sustainable waste management resulted in the successful diversion of 100% of waste from landfills, reflecting our ongoing efforts to eliminate waste at source, improve material efficiency, and achieve zero landfill goals.

To reduce the use of hazardous and toxic chemicals, Neuland continues to invest in green chemistry practices, process optimisation, and substitution of harmful substances with safer alternatives, aligning with our broader environmental sustainability objectives.

Increased emissions from procurement activities were identified as a significant environmental impact within our value chain. In response, we, at Neuland implemented a supply chain de-risking strategy aimed at reducing geographic dependencies and shortening supply chains, an approach particularly relevant in the context of the pandemic and evolving global challenges.

As part of this initiative, we successfully onboarded an alternate Indian supplier for a key starting material used in the production of one of our beta-blocker drugs, reducing reliance on the existing overseas vendor. This move not only led to process improvements and cost savings but also contributed to a notable reduction in carbon emissions, aligning with our broader environmental sustainability goals. Further in FY 2024-25, we expanded our Scope 3 emissions estimation to all our raw materials and capital goods' partners and set the baseline to understand and mitigate the environmental impact and to initiate engagement with our value chain partners.

TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON EVEN DATE ON THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF NEULAND LABORATORIES LIMITED

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management and Board of Director's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025, and are therefore, the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

1. CORPORATE INFORMATION

Neuland Laboratories Limited (the "Company") is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The Company's registered office is at 11th floor 5th level, Phoenix IVY III Building Plot No. 573A, Road Number 82, Jubilee Hills, Hyderabad 500033. The shares of the Company are listed on two recognised stock exchanges of India viz. the National Stock Exchange of India Limited and BSE Limited. The Company is engaged in manufacturing and selling of bulk drugs and caters to both domestic and international markets.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

These standalone financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act 2013 ("the Act") read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended, issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs ('MCA').

Accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use. These standalone financial statements have been prepared for the Company as a going concern on the basis of relevant Ind AS that are effective at the Company's annual reporting date March 31, 2025.

These standalone financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention and on an accrual basis except for the following material items in the balance sheet:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value;
- Net defined benefit assets / (liability) are measured at fair value of plan assets, less present value of defined benefit obligations.

(i) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of standalone financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the standalone financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the standalone financial statements in the period in which changes are made and in any future periods affected.

Information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the standalone financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Note (c), (e), (f) and (g) - Useful lives of property, plant and equipment, investment properties, goodwill and other intangible assets;
- Note (h) - Impairment;
- Note (i) - Financial instruments;
- Note (o) - Employee benefits;
- Note (s) - Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets; and
- Note (q) - Income taxes

(ii) Summary of material accounting policies

The standalone financial statements have been prepared using the accounting policies and measurement basis summarized below.

a. Functional currency

The standalone financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee ('INR' or '₹') which is also the functional and presentation currency of the Company. All financial information presented in Indian rupees has been rounded to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

b. Current and non-current classification

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Division II – Ind AS Schedule III to the Act.

Based on nature of product and activities of the Company and their realisation in cash and cash equivalent, the Company has determined its operating cycle as twelve months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

c. Property, plant and equipment (PPE)

Items of PPE are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities), borrowing cost if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use, and estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

Subsequent costs are included in asset's carrying amount or recognised as separate assets, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of item can be measured reliably. If significant parts of an item of PPE have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of PPE.

An item of PPE and any significant part initially recognised is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of PPE outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances. Capital work- in- progress includes cost of property, plant and equipment under installation / under development as at the balance sheet date.

Depreciation on PPE is calculated on pro-rata basis on straight-line method using the useful lives of the assets estimated by management. The useful life is as follows:

Asset	Useful Life (in years)
Buildings	25 & 30
Plant and equipment	7 to 20
Office equipment	2 to 5
Furniture and fixtures	2 to 10
Vehicles	4 & 8
Computers	3 & 6

Depreciation on additions / disposals is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from / upto the date on which asset is ready for use / disposed-off.

The useful lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events. The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the assets. The residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation of are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

d. Leases :

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Company as a lessee

The Company accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Company recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straightline method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Company, on a lease by lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Company recognises the amount of the re-measurement of lease liability due to modification as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset and statement of profit and loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Company recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 Leases to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

e. Investment properties

Property that is held for long term rental yields or for capital appreciation or for both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as investment property. Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. When the use of a property changes from owner occupied to investment property, the property is reclassified as investment property at it's carrying amount on the date of reclassification.

The useful life of investment property is estimated at 60yrs based on technical evaluation performed by management's expert.

f. Goodwill

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred over the fair value of net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Company re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through other comprehensive income.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Company's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

g. Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any. These are derecognised upon disposal (i.e., at the date the recipient obtains control) or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from disposal of the intangible assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the assets are disposed off.

Intangible assets are amortized over their useful economic lives and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The other intangible assets comprise of computer software expenditure and are amortized over a period of three years. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset is reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset is accounted for by changing the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates.

h. Impairment

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's PPE and intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or the cash-generating unit for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets.

An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit or loss if the estimated recoverable amount of an asset or its cash generating unit is lower than its carrying amount. If, at the reporting date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been previously recognised.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost.

Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. For all other financial assets, ECL are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL.

Loss allowance for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from gross carrying amount of the assets.

i. Financial instruments

Initial Recognition and measurement

Trade receivables are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value and, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI") – debt investment;
- FVTOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

Amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the statement of profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTOCI – debt investment

A debt investment is measured at FVTOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognises interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit or loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit or loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method

Equity investment

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI (designated as FVTOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment by-investment basis.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, including foreign exchange gain or loss and excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit or loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTPL

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVTOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held- for- trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in statement of profit or loss.

De-recognition

Financial assets

A financial asset is primarily de-recognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Financial liabilities

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Company uses derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts and interest rate risk exposures to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations and changes in interest rates. Derivatives are initially measured at fair value and subsequent to initial recognition, derivatives are measured at fair value, and changes therein are generally recognised in statement of profit or loss, since the Company's hedging instruments did not qualify for hedge accounting in accordance with the Ind-AS 39. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, cash at banks, deposit held at call with financial institutions, other short - term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Dividend distribution to equity holders of the Company

The Company recognises a liability to make dividend distributions to equity holders of the Company when the distribution is authorised and the distribution is no longer at the discretion of the Company. As per the corporate laws in India, a distribution is authorised when it is approved by the shareholders. A corresponding amount is recognised directly in equity.

j. Inventories

Basis of valuation:

Inventories consist of raw materials, stores and spares, work-in-progress and finished goods are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of all categories of inventories is based on the weighted average method. Cost includes expenditures incurred in acquiring the inventories, production or conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition. In the case of finished goods and work-in-progress, cost includes an appropriate share of overheads based on normal operating capacity. Stores and spares, that do not qualify to be recognised as property, plant and equipment, consists of engineering spares (such as machinery spare parts) and consumables or consumed as indirect materials in the manufacturing process.

Method of Valuation:

The Cost of raw materials, stores and consumables has been determined by using weighted average cost method and comprises all costs of purchase, duties, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) and all other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes direct labour and an appropriate share of fixed and variable production overheads and excise duty as applicable. Fixed production overheads are allocated on the basis of normal capacity of production facilities. Cost is determined on weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

k. Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency of the Company at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting period are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction; and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or any other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences arising on monetary items on settlement, or restatement as at reporting date, at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which they arise

l. Investments in the nature of equity in subsidiaries

The Company has elected to recognise its investments in equity instruments in subsidiaries at cost in the separate financial statements in accordance with the option available in Ind AS 27, 'Separate Financial Statements'. The Company regardless of the nature of its involvement with an entity (the investee), determines whether it is a parent by assessing whether it controls the investee. The Company controls an investee when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Thus, the Company controls an investee if and only if it has all the following:

(a) power over the investee;

(b) exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and

(c) the ability to use its power over the investee to affect the amount of the returns.

Investments are accounted in accordance with Ind AS 105 when they are classified as held for sale. On disposal of investment, the difference between its carrying amount and net disposal proceeds is charged or credited to the statement of profit and loss

m. Revenue recognition

Revenue from contract with customers

The Company derives revenues primarily from sale of active pharmaceutical ingredients and contract research services. Revenue is recognized on satisfaction of performance obligation upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

The Company satisfies a performance obligation and recognises revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

i. the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company's performance as the Company performs; or

ii. the Company's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated) controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or

iii. the Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Company and an entity has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

For performance obligations where one of the above conditions are not met, revenue is recognised at the point in time at which the performance obligation is satisfied.

Revenue in excess of invoicing are classified as contract asset /unbilled revenue while collections in excess of revenues are classified as contract liabilities / advance from customers.

In respect of contracts involving bill-and-hold arrangements, the Company determines whether the control of the underlying products have been transferred to the customer. For the purpose of determining whether such control is transferred, the entity considers the following requirements as required by Ind AS 115:

i. The reason for the bill-and-hold arrangement is substantive (i.e. the physical possession with the entity is pursuant to the customer's explicit request);

ii. The product is separately identified as belonging to the customer;

iii. The product is ready for physical transfer to the customer; and

iv. The entity does not have the ability to use the product or to direct it to another customer.

The Company recognizes revenue in respect of bill-and-hold arrangements only when all of the aforementioned requirements are met. Further, at the time of such recognition, the entity also determines whether there are any material unsatisfied performance obligations and determines the portion of the aggregate consideration, if any, that needs to be allocated and deferred.

The Company does not expect to have any contracts where the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer and payment by the customer exceeds one year. As a consequence, it does not adjust any of the transaction prices for the time value of money.

Other operating revenue - Export incentives

Export Incentives under various schemes are recognised in the year of export in accordance with their respective underlying scheme at fair value of consideration received or receivable.

Other income - Interest income

Interest income is recognized on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and rate applicable. For all debt instruments measured either at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Other income - Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally, when shareholders approve the dividend.

n. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

o. Retirement and other employee benefits

Defined contribution plan

The Company's contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense as and when the services are received from the employees entitling them to the contributions.

Defined benefit plan

The liability in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. The Company recognises the net obligation of a defined benefit plan as a liability in its balance sheet. Gains or losses through remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability are recognised in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit and loss in the subsequent periods. The effect of any plan amendments are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

p. Taxes

Tax expense recognized in statement of profit or loss consists of current and deferred tax except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively.

Current income tax, assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the Income Computation and Disclosure Standards (ICDS) enacted in India by using tax rates and the tax laws that are enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the Company.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Withholding tax arising out of payment of dividends to shareholders under the Indian Income tax regulations is not considered as tax expense for the Company and all such taxes are recognised in the statement of changes in equity as part of the associated dividend payment.

q. Research and development expense

Expenditure on research activities undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding is recognized as expense when incurred. Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes. Development expenditure is capitalized only if:

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

- The product or the process is technically and commercially feasible;
- Future economic benefits are probable and ascertainable;
- The Company intends to and has sufficient resources, technical and financial, to complete development of the product and has the ability to use or sell the asset; and
- Development costs can be measured reliably.

Where the aforementioned criteria are not met, the expenditure is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

r. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized only when there is a present obligation, as a result of past events, and when a reliable estimate of the amount of obligation can be made at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Provisions are discounted to their present values, where the time value of money is material.

Contingent liability is disclosed for:

- Possible obligations which will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the Company; or
- Present obligations arising from past events where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made.

s. Exceptional items

Exceptional items are transactions which due to their size or incidence are separately disclosed to enable a full understanding of the Company's financial performance. Items which may be considered exceptional are significant restructuring charges, gains or losses on disposal of investments in subsidiaries, impairment losses/write down in value of investment in subsidiaries, significant disposal of property, plant and equipment, investment property etc.

(iii) Standards (including amendments) issued but not yet effective

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2025, MCA has not notified any new standards or amendments to the existing standards applicable to the Company.

(vii)	Sensitivity Analysis
	The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligation are the discount rate and salary escalation rate. The calculation of the net defined benefit liability is sensitive to respective assumptions, while holding all other assumptions constant. Sensitivity to these factors is disclosed below.
	Projected defined benefit obligation	2,208.80	1,999.25
	Discount rate + 100 basis points	2,149.00	1,925.75
	Discount rate - 100 basis points	2,305.29	2,078.96
	Salary increase rate + 100 basis points	2,319.07	2,074.90
	Salary increase rate - 100 basis points	2,129.11	1,925.20

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

There has been no change in the process used by the Company to manage its risks from prior periods.

(viii)	Maturity analysis of projected benefit obligation
	2 to 5 years	1,092.21	939.08

31. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

(i) Fair value hierarchy

Financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value in the Balance Sheet are grouped into three levels of a fair value hierarchy. The three levels are defined based on the observability of significant inputs to the measurement, as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

(ii) Financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

(iv) The carrying amounts of trade receivables, trade payables and cash and cash equivalents are considered to be the same as their fair values, due to their short-term nature. Difference between carrying amounts and fair values of bank deposits, other financial assets, other financial liabilities and borrowings subsequently measured at amortised cost is not significant in each of the years presented. For all other amortised cost instruments, carrying value represents the best estimate of fair value.

For financial assets measured at fair values, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

32. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company is exposed to various financial risks arising from its operations and the use of financial instruments. The key financial risks include market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Company and seek to, where appropriate, minimize potential impact of the risk and to control and monitor such risks. The Company's risk management is coordinated by the Board of Directors and focuses on securing long term and short term cash flows. The Company does not engage in trading of financial assets for speculative purposes.

The following sections provide details regarding the Company's exposure to the financial risks associated with financial instruments held in the ordinary course of business and the objectives, policies and processes for management of these risks.

A. Market risk:

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises two types of risk: interest rate risk and currency risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include borrowings, deposits, trade receivables and other financial instruments.

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024. The analysis exclude the impact of movements in market variables on the carrying values of gratuity and other post retirement obligations; provisions; and non-financial assets and liabilities.

i. Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company has loan facilities on floating interest rate, which exposes the Company to risk of changes in interest rates. The management monitors the interest rate movement and manages the interest rate risk based on its policies, which include entering into interest rate swaps as considered necessary. The Company's investment in deposits with banks are for short durations and therefore do not expose the Company to significant interest rate risk. Below are the details of exposure to fixed rate and variable rate instruments:

Particulars	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024
Fixed rate instruments
Financial assets	18,973.98	10,614.22
Financial liabilities	2,499.71	3,942.75
Variable rate instruments
Financial liabilities	11,101.30	4,307.95

Every 0.5% increase/decrease in the interest rate component applicable to the respective borrowings would effect the Company's net profit before tax resulting in an expense/income of ₹55.51 and ₹21.54 for the year ended March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 respectively.

Notes forming part of the Standalone Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

ii. Foreign currency risk:

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of change in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in foreign currency) and financing activities (when borrowings are denominated in foreign currency), The foreign currencies in which these transactions are denominated are US Dollars, Euros, Japanese Yen, Great British Pound and Swiss Franc.

a) Significant foreign currency risk exposure relating to financial assets and financial liabilities expressed in ₹ terms are as follows:

iii. Equity price risk:

The Company's exposure to equity securities price risk arises from investments held by the Company and classified in the balance sheet as FVTOCI/FVTPL. An increase/(decrease) in fair value of investments by 10% shall impact the Company's equity and total comprehensive income by ₹1092.12 (March 31, 2024: ₹12.79).

B. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty fails to discharge an obligation to the Company, leading to a financial loss. The Company is mainly exposed to the risk of its balances with the bankers and trade and other receivables. None of the Company's cash equivalents, other bank balances, loans and security deposits were past due or impaired as at March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024.

C. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company manages its liquidity risk by ensuring, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risk to the Company's reputation.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the Company's liquidity position (comprising the undrawn borrowing facilities) and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows.

The recoverable value is computed based on the net present value of the projected post-tax cash flows plus a terminal value of the cash generating unit to which the goodwill is allocated. Initially a post-tax discount rate is applied to calculate the net present value of the post-tax cash flows. The cash flow projections include specific estimates for five years developed using internal forecasts and a terminal growth rate thereafter of 5%. The planning horizon reflects the assumptions for short-to-mid term market developments which are based on key assumptions such as margins, expected growth rates based on past experience, new product launches and management's expectations / extrapolation of normal increase / steady terminal growth rate. Discount rate reflects the current market assessment of the risks. The discount rate is estimated based on the weighted average cost of capital for the Company. Post-tax discount rates used were 13.57% for the year ended March 31, 2025. The management believes that any reasonable possible change in the key assumptions would not cause the aggregate carrying amount to exceed the aggregate recoverable amount of the cash- generating unit.

Notes:

(a) The Income tax authorities had re-opened the income tax assessment of the Company for the assessment year 2004-05 later than the periods permitted by the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and thereby demanded an additional tax amount of ₹693.33 on account of disallowance of certain prior period expenditure recognized by the Company in the computation of gross total income for the assessment year then ended. Aggrieved by the order of the Income Tax department, the management had filed an appeal with the higher authorities which had been successfully decided in favour of the Company. The Income Tax department has however filed an appeal with the Hon'ble High Court of Telangana in this regard, which is pending final outcome. However, on the basis of its internal assessment and considering the order of the first level appellate authority, the Company is confident of securing an favourable order from the High Court and accordingly, no adjustments have been made to the standalone financial statements in this regard.

Other Disputes/Matters:

(b) During 2004, the Company was allotted land parcel by the then Andhra Pradesh Industrial Infrastructure Corporation Limited ("APIIC") for setting up a basic research and development center. Subsequently public interest litigation (PIL) was filed challenging allotments made by APIIC as unconstitutional and to cancel the allotments and resume the lands in all cases where the development has not commenced or the substantial progress has not been made as per the terms of allotments and regulations. During the year, the Hon'ble High Court of Telangana, vide its Order, disposed of the PIL, stating that it is not inclined to grant the relief prayed by the petitioners regarding the matter under dispute with respect to several companies including Neuland Laboratories Limited.

(c) Our Company purchased land in Survey No. 490/2 situated at Bonthapally Village, Jinnaram Mandal, Medak District. The Revenue department issued notices to our Company for resumption of the said land on the ground that the same was "assigned land". Our Company has filed an application before the Collector, Medak District for regularization of the said land as per the applicable laws. Our Company also filed a writ petition before the High Court praying for an order not to take any coercive steps. The High Court vide its order dated March 18, 2011 directed the revenue department to not take any coercive steps till the disposal of the representation filed by our Company.

The matter is pending before the Collector, Medak District. The management believes that the outcome will be in favour of the Company and hence no adjustment is made in the financial statements.

Aggrieved by the aforesaid order the Company has filed a writ petition challenging order of CIGSR with Hon'ble High Court of Telangana (the 'Court') as the Company was not involved during the proceedings. The Court has vide its order dated December 31, 2010 has directed to maintain the status quo with regards to the possession of the property till further orders passed. Proceedings of the case are still pending with the court. The management is confident that orders will be in the favour of the Company, hence no adjustment is deemed necessary to these standalone financial statements.

TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON EVEN DATE ON THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF NEULAND LABORATORIES LIMITED

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management and Board of Directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

1. CORPORATE INFORMATION

Neuland Laboratories Limited (the "Company") is a public limited Company incorporated and domiciled in India. The Company's registered office is at 11th floor (5th level, Phoenix IVY III Building Plot No. 573A, Road Number 82, Jubilee Hills, Hyderabad 500033). The shares of the Company are listed on two recognised stock exchanges of India viz. the National Stock Exchange of India Limited and BSE Limited. The Company is engaged in manufacturing and selling of bulk drugs and caters to both domestic and international markets.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

The consolidated financial statements of the Company along with its subsidiaries (together referred to as "Group") have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act 2013 ("the Act") read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended, issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs ('MCA').

Accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use. These consolidated financial statements have been prepared for the Group as a going concern on the basis of relevant Ind AS that are effective at the Group's annual reporting date March 31, 2025.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention and on an accrual basis except for the following material items in the balance sheet:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value;
- Net defined benefit assets / (liability) are measured at fair value of plan assets, less present value of defined benefit obligations.

Principles of consolidation

Subsidiary

Subsidiary is entity (including structured entity) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the relevant activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealized income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in full while preparing these consolidated financial statements.

The following subsidiaries have been considered for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Name of the subsidiary	Country of Incorporation	Percentage holding/ interest (%) As at March 31
		2025	2024
Neuland Laboratories Inc.	United States of America	100	100
Neuland Laboratories K.K	Japan	100	100

Principal activity of the subsidiary is providing marketing support services to Neuland Laboratories Limited (Parent Company).

(i) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements in the period in which changes are made and in any future periods affected.

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Note (c), (e), (f) and (g) - Useful lives of property, plant and equipment, investment properties, goodwill and other intangible assets;
- Note (h) - Impairment;
- Note (i) - Financial instruments;
- Note (n) - Employee benefits;
- Note (r) - Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets; and
- Note (p) - Income taxes

(ii) Summary of material accounting policies

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared using the accounting policies and measurement basis summarized below.

a. Functional currency

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee ('INR' or '₹') which is also the functional and presentation currency of the Group. All financial information presented in Indian rupees has been rounded to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

b. Current and non-current classification

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Division II – Ind AS Schedule III to the Act.

Based on nature of product and activities of the Group and their realisation in cash and cash equivalent, the Group has determined its operating cycle as twelve months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

c. Property, plant and equipment (PPE)

Items of PPE are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities), borrowing cost if capitalization criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use, and estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

Subsequent costs are included in asset's carrying amount or recognised as separate assets, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of item can be measured reliably. If significant parts of an item of PPE have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of PPE.

An item of PPE and any significant part initially recognised is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of PPE outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances. Capital work- in- progress includes cost of PPE under installation / under development as at the balance sheet date.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated on pro-rata basis on straight-line method using the useful lives of the assets estimated by management. The useful life is as follows:

Asset	Useful Life (in years)
Buildings	25 & 30
Plant and equipment	7 to 20
Office equipment	2 to 5
Furniture and fixtures	2 to 10
Vehicles	4 & 8
Computers	3 & 6

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Depreciation on additions / disposals is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from / upto the date on which asset is ready for use / disposed-off.

The useful lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events. The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the assets. The residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation of are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

d. Leases :

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a lessee

The Group accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Group recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right-of-use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Group measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Group, on a lease by lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Group recognises the amount of the re-measurement of lease liability due to modification as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset and statement of profit and loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Group recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

The Group has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 Leases to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

e. Investment properties

Property that is held for long term rental yields or for capital appreciation or for both, and that is not occupied by the Group, is classified as investment property. Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. When the use of a property changes from owner occupied to investment property, the property is reclassified as investment property at it's carrying amount on the date of reclassification.

The useful life of investment property is estimated at 60yrs based on technical evaluation performed by management's expert.

f. Goodwill

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred over the fair value of net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Group re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through other comprehensive income.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

g. Other intangible assets

Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any. These are derecognised upon disposal (i.e., at the date the recipient obtains control) or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from disposal of the intangible assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the assets are disposed off.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Intangible assets are amortized over their useful economic lives and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The other intangible assets comprise of computer software expenditure and are amortized over a period of three years. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset is reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset is accounted for by changing the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates.

h. Impairment

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Group's PPE and intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or the cash-generating unit for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets.

An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit or loss if the estimated recoverable amount of an asset or its cash generating unit is lower than its carrying amount. If, at the reporting date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been previously recognised.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost.

Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. For all other financial assets, ECL are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL.

Loss allowance for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from gross carrying amount of the assets.

i. Financial instruments

Initial Recognition and measurement

Trade receivables are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value and, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI") – debt investment;
- FVTOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

Amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the statement of profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTOCI – debt investment

A debt investment is measured at FVTOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Group recognises interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit or loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit or loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method

Equity investment

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI (designated as FVTOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment by-investment basis.

If the Group decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, including foreign exchange gain or loss and excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit or loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

FVTPL

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVTOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held- for- trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in statement of profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in statement of profit or loss.

De-recognition

Financial assets

A financial asset is primarily de-recognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset.

Financial liabilities

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group uses derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts and interest rate risk exposures to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations and changes in interest rates. Derivatives are initially measured at fair value and subsequent to initial recognition, derivatives are measured at fair value, and changes therein are generally recognised in statement of profit or loss, since the Group's hedging instruments did not qualify for hedge accounting in accordance with the Ind-AS 39. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, cash at banks, deposit held at call with financial institutions, other short - term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Other income - Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally, when shareholders approve the dividend.

j. Inventories

Basis of valuation:

Inventories consist of raw materials, stores and spares, work-in-progress and finished goods are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of all categories of inventories is based on the weighted average method. Cost includes expenditures incurred in acquiring the inventories, production or conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition. In the case of finished goods and work-in-progress, cost includes an appropriate share of overheads based on normal operating capacity. Stores and spares, that do not qualify to be recognised as property, plant and equipment, consists of engineering spares (such as machinery spare parts) and consumables or consumed as indirect materials in the manufacturing process.

Method of Valuation:

The Cost of raw materials, stores and consumables has been determined by using weighted average cost method and comprises all costs of purchase, duties, taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) and all other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes direct labour and an appropriate share of fixed and variable production overheads and excise duty as applicable. Fixed production overheads are allocated on the basis of normal capacity of production facilities. Cost is determined on weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

k. Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency of the Group at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting period are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction; and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or any other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences arising on monetary items on settlement, or restatement as at reporting date, at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which they arise

l. Revenue recognition

Revenue from contract with customers

The Group derives revenues primarily from sale of active pharmaceutical ingredients and contract research services. Revenue is recognized on satisfaction of performance obligation upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Group expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

The Group satisfies a performance obligation and recognises revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

i. the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs; or

ii. the Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or

iii. the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and an Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

For performance obligations where one of the above conditions are not met, revenue is recognised at the point in time at which the performance obligation is satisfied.

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

Revenue in excess of invoicing are classified as contract asset / unbilled revenue while collections in excess of revenues are classified as contract liabilities / advance from customers.

In respect of contracts involving bill-and-hold arrangements, the Group determines whether the control of the underlying products have been transferred to the customer. For the purpose of determining whether such control is transferred, the entity considers the following requirements as required by Ind AS 115:

i. The reason for the bill-and-hold arrangement is substantive (i.e. the physical possession with the entity is pursuant to the customer's explicit request);

ii. The product is separately identified as belonging to the customer;

iii. The product is ready for physical transfer to the customer; and

iv. The entity does not have the ability to use the product or to direct it to another customer.

The Group recognizes revenue in respect of bill-and-hold arrangements only when all of the aforementioned requirements are met. Further, at the time of such recognition, the entity also determines whether there are any material unsatisfied performance obligations and determines the portion of the aggregate consideration, if any, that needs to be allocated and deferred.

The Group does not expect to have any contracts where the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer and payment by the customer exceeds one year. As a consequence, it does not adjust any of the transaction prices for the time value of money.

Other operating revenue - Export incentives

Export Incentives under various schemes are recognised in the year of export in accordance with their respective underlying scheme at fair value of consideration received or receivable.

Other income - Interest income

Interest income is recognized on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and rate applicable. For all debt instruments measured either at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Other income - Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally, when shareholders approve the dividend.

m. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

n. Retirement and other employee benefits

Defined contribution plan

The Group's contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense as and when the services are received from the employees entitling them to the contributions.

Defined benefit plan

The liability in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. The Group recognises the net obligation of a defined benefit plan as a liability in its balance sheet. Gains or losses through remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability are recognised in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit and loss in the subsequent periods. The effect of any plan amendments are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

o. Taxes

Tax expense recognized in statement of profit or loss consists of current and deferred tax except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively.

Current income tax, assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the Income Computation and Disclosure Standards (ICDS) enacted in India by using tax rates and the tax laws that are enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Group has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the Group.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Withholding tax arising out of payment of dividends to shareholders under the Indian Income tax regulations is not considered as tax expense for the Group and all such taxes are recognised in the statement of changes in equity as part of the associated dividend payment.

p. Research and development expense

Expenditure on research activities undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding is recognized as expense when incurred. Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes. Development expenditure is capitalized only if:

- The product or the process is technically and commercially feasible;
- Future economic benefits are probable and ascertainable;
- The Group intends to and has sufficient resources, technical and financial, to complete development of the product

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated) and has the ability to use or sell the asset; and

- Development costs can be measured reliably.

Where the aforementioned criteria are not met, the expenditure is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

q. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized only when there is a present obligation, as a result of past events, and when a reliable estimate of the amount of obligation can be made at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Provisions are discounted to their present values, where the time value of money is material.

Contingent liability is disclosed for:

- Possible obligations which will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the Group; or
- Present obligations arising from past events where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made.

Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed. However, when realization of income is virtually certain, related asset is recognized.

r. Exceptional items

Exceptional items are transactions which due to their size or incidence are separately disclosed to enable a full understanding of the Group financial performance. Items which may be considered exceptional are significant restructuring charges, gains or losses on disposal of investments in subsidiaries, impairment losses/write down in value of investment in subsidiaries, significant disposal of property, plant and equipment, investment property etc.

(iii) Standards (including amendments) issued but not yet effective

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2025, MCA has not notified any new standards or amendments to the existing standards applicable to the Company.

(vii)	Sensitivity Analysis
	The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligation are the discount rate and salary escalation rate. The calculation of the net defined benefit liability is sensitive to respective assumptions, while holding all other assumptions constant. Sensitivity to these factors is disclosed below.
	Projected defined benefit obligation	2,267.29	2,047.47
	Discount rate + 100 basis points	2,149.00	1,925.75
	Discount rate - 100 basis points	2,305.29	2,078.96
	Salary increase rate + 100 basis points	2,319.07	2,074.90
	Salary increase rate - 100 basis points	2,129.11	1,925.20

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

There has been no change in the process used by the Company to manage its risks from prior periods.

31. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

(i) Fair value hierarchy

Financial assets and Financial liabilities measured at Fair value in the statement of Financial position are grouped into three levels of a Fair value hierarchy. The three levels are defined based on the observability of significant inputs to the measurement, as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: The fair value of Financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

For all other amortised cost instruments, carrying value represents the best estimate of fair value.

32. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company is exposed to various financial risks arising from its operations and the use of financial instruments. The key financial risks include market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Company and seek to, where appropriate, minimize potential impact of the risk and to control and monitor such risks. The Company's risk management is coordinated by the Board of Directors and focuses on securing long term and short term cash flows. The Company does not engage in trading of financial assets for speculative purposes.

The following sections provide details regarding the Company's exposure to the financial risks associated with financial instruments held in the ordinary course of business and the objectives, policies and processes for management of these risks.

A. Market risk:

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises two types of risk: interest rate risk and currency risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include borrowings, deposits, trade receivables and other financial instruments.

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024. The analysis exclude the impact of movements in market variables on the carrying values of gratuity and other post retirement obligations; provisions; and non-financial assets and liabilities.

i. Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company has loan facilities on floating interest rate, which exposes the Company to risk of changes in interest rates. The management monitors the interest rate movement and manages the interest rate risk based on its policies, which include entering into interest rate swaps as considered necessary. The Company's investment in deposits with banks are for short durations and therefore do not expose the Company to significant interest rate risk. Below are the details of exposure to fixed rate and variable rate instruments:

Particulars	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024
Fixed rate instruments
Financial assets	18,973.98	10,614.22
Financial liabilities	2,499.71	3,942.75
Variable rate instruments
Financial liabilities	11,101.30	4,307.95

Every 0.5% increase/decrease in the interest rate component applicable to the respective borrowings would effect the Company's net profit before tax resulting in an expense/income of ₹55.51 and ₹21.54 for the year ended March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 respectively.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

(All amounts are in Indian ₹ in lakhs, except for share data or as otherwise stated)

The Company's exposure to the risk of change in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in foreign currency) and financing activities (when borrowings are denominated in foreign currency), The foreign currencies in which these transactions are denominated are US Dollars, Euros, Japanese Yen, Great British Pound and Swiss Franc.

The Company manages its liquidity risk by ensuring, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risk to the Company's reputation.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the Company's liquidity position (comprising the undrawn borrowing facilities) and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows.

Pursuant to the Scheme of Amalgamation and Arrangement ("the Scheme") duly approved by the National Company Law Tribunal, Hyderabad Bench vide their order dated March 21, 2018, Neuland Health Sciences Private Limited ("NHSPL") and Neuland Pharma Research Private Limited ("NPRPL") (together referred to as "Transferor Companies"), were merged with the Company with appointed date of 1 April 2016. NHSPL was engaged in the business of conducting research and development of Peptides and NPRPL was in the business of contract research services.

The purchase consideration of ₹31,084.99 paid by way of issue of 2,270,635 equity shares of ₹10 each [in accordance with the Scheme, 4,590,608 equity shares of ₹10 each held by NHSPL in the Company stands cancelled and the Company shall issue 6,861,095 and 148 fully paid-up equity shares of ₹10 each to the shareholders of NHSPL and NPRPL respectively] at a premium of ₹1,359 per equity share.

Opening balance	27,946.10	27,946.10
Add: Due to acquisition during the year	-	-
Less: Impairment/write off	-	-
Closing Balance	27,946.10	27,946.10

The recoverable amount of the above cash generating unit ("CGU") has been assessed using a value-in-use model. The recoverable value is computed based on the net present value of the projected post-tax cash flows plus a terminal value of the cash generating unit to which the goodwill is allocated. Initially a post-tax discount rate is applied to calculate the net present value of the post-tax cash flows. The cash flow projections include specific estimates for five years developed using internal forecasts and a terminal growth rate thereafter of 5%. The planning horizon reflects the assumptions for short-to-mid term market developments which are based on key assumptions such as margins, expected growth rates based on past experience, new product launches and management's expectations / extrapolation of normal increase / steady terminal growth rate. Discount rate reflects the current market assessment of the risks. The discount rate is estimated based on the weighted average cost of capital for the Company. Post-tax discount rates used were 13.57% for the year ended March 31, 2025. The management believes that any reasonable possible change in the key assumptions would not cause the aggregate carrying amount to exceed the aggregate recoverable amount of the cash- generating unit.

Notes:

(a) The Income tax authorities had re-opened the income tax assessment of the Company for the assessment year 2004-05 later than the periods permitted by the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and thereby demanded an additional tax amount of ₹693.33 on account of disallowance of certain prior period expenditure recognized by the Company in the computation of gross total income for the assessment year then ended. Aggrieved by the order of the Income Tax department, the management had filed an appeal with the higher authorities which had been successfully decided in favour of the Company. The Income Tax department has however filed an appeal with the Hon'ble High Court of Telangana in this regard, which is pending final outcome. However, on the basis of its internal assessment and considering the order of the first level appellate authority, the Company is confident of securing an favourable order from the High Court and accordingly, no adjustments have been made to the consolidated financial statements in this regard.

Other Disputes/Matters:

(b) During 2004, the Company was allotted land parcel by the then Andhra Pradesh Industrial Infrastructure Corporation Limited ("APIIC") for setting up a basic research and development center. Subsequently public interest litigation (PIL) was filed challenging allotments made by APIIC as unconstitutional and to cancel the allotments and resume the lands in all cases where the development has not commenced or the substantial progress has not been made as per the terms of allotments and regulations. During the year, the Hon'ble High Court of Telangana, vide its Order, disposed of the PIL, stating that it is not inclined to grant the relief prayed by the petitioners regarding the matter under dispute with respect to several companies including Neuland Laboratories Limited.

(c) Our Company purchased land in Survey No. 490/2 situated at Bonthapally Village, Jinnaram Mandal, Medak District. The Revenue department issued notices to our Company for resumption of the said land on the ground that the same was "assigned land". Our Company has filed an application before the Collector, Medak District for regularization of the said land as per the applicable laws. Our Company also filed a writ petition before the High Court praying for an order not to take any coercive steps. The High Court vide its order dated March 18, 2011 directed the revenue department to not take any coercive steps till the disposal of the representation filed by our Company.

The matter is pending before the Collector, Medak District. The management believes that the outcome will be in favour of the Company and hence no adjustment is made in the consolidated financial statements.

(d) During the financial year ended March 31, 2008, the Commissioner and Inspector General of Stamps and Registration (CIGSR), Andhra Pradesh has vide it's order dated February 22, 2008 has cancelled the registration of the land parcel owned by the company situated at Bonthapally pursuant to complaint made by one of the seller. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order the Company has filed a writ petition challenging order of CIGSR with Hon'ble High Court of Telangana (the 'Court') as the Company was not involved during the proceedings. The Court has vide its order dated December 31, 2010 has directed to maintain the status quo with regards to the possession of the property till further orders passed. Proceedings of the case are still pending with the court. The management is confident that orders will be in the favour of the Company, hence no adjustment is deemed necessary to these consolidated financial statements.

Action Plan

Neuland is in the process of developing an action plan for the following focus areas, which are well-aligned with the management's existing objectives and programs. These areas have already been identified by Neuland, and the assurance team confirm their continued implementation to help advance the organization's sustainability goals.

1. Neuland may strengthen its internal reporting by opting a smart cloud-based data management system and compliment the same with periodic internal data and performance reviews on month on month and year on year analysis,
2. Neuland may further increase the visibility of ESG programs to embed in its organization,
3. Neuland may plan to monitor all categories of indirect GHG emissions as per ISO 14064-1 to the extent applicable.

In our opinion, based on the scope of this assurance engagement, the ESG disclosures and reference information provide a fair representation of the material topics and meet the general content and quality requirements of the applied standards.

Neuland appropriately discloses the KPIs and actions that focus on the creation of value over the short, medium, and long term. The selected KPIs disclosed by Neuland are fairly represented. TUVI did not perform any assurance procedures on the prospective information, such as targets, expectations, and ambitions, disclosed in the Report. Consequently, TUVI draws no conclusion from the prospective information. This assurance statement has been prepared in reference to the terms of our engagement.

Disclosures: TUVI is of the opinion that the reported disclosures generally meet the GRI Standards 2021 reporting requirements. Neuland refers to universal disclosure to Report contextual information about Neuland, while the 'Management Approach' is discussed to Report the management approach for each material topic.

Universal Standard: Neuland followed GRI 1 Foundation 2021: Requirements and Principles for using the GRI Standards 2021; GRI 2: General Disclosures 2021: Disclosures about the reporting organization. GRI3 was selected for management's approach to reporting information about how an organisation manages a material topic.

Topic Specific Standard: 300 series (Environmental topics) and 400 series (Social topics); these Topic- specific Standards were used to report information on the organization's impacts related to environmental and social topics. TUVI is of the opinion that the reported material topics and Topic-specific Standards that Neuland used to prepare its ESG-related issues are appropriately identified and addressed.

businesses. The Report fairly brings out the aspects, topics, and their respective boundaries of the diverse operations of Neuland. In our view, the Report meets the requirements.

Responsiveness: TUVI believes that the responses to the material aspects (identified through the Materiality study) are fairly articulated in the report, i.e., disclosures on Neuland policies and management systems, including governance. In our view, the Report meets the requirements.

Impact: *Neuland communicates its sustainability performance through regular, transparent internal and external reporting throughout the year, aligned with GRI Standards 2021, IIRC Integrated Reporting (<IR>) as part of its policy framework encompassing environmental, social, ethical, and other policies. Completeness: The Report has fairly disclosed the selected non-financial KPIs, as per GRI Standards 2021. In our view, the Report meets the requirements.

Reporting Principles for defining report quality: The majority of the data and information were verified by TUVI's assurance team during the remote assessment and found to be fairly accurate. The disclosures related to ESG issues and performances are reported in a balanced manner and are clear in terms of content and presentation. In our view, the Report meets the requirements.

Reliability: The majority of the data and information were verified by TUVI's assurance team and found to be fairly accurate. Some inaccuracies in the data identified during the verification process were found to be attributable to transcription, interpretation, and aggregation errors, and these errors have been corrected. Therefore, in reference to the GRI Standards 2021, IIRC Integrated Reporting (<IR>), TUVI concludes that the ESG data and information presented in the Report are fairly reliable and acceptable. In our view, the Report meets the requirements.

Neutrality: The disclosures related to ESG issues and performance are reported in a neutral tone, in terms of content and presentation. In our view, the Report meets the requirements.

Independence: TUVI follows IESBA (International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants) Code which, adopts a threats and safeguards approach to independence. It is confirmed that the assurance team is selected to avoid situations of self-interest, self-review, advocacy and familiarity. The assessment team was safeguarded from any type of intimidation.

Quality control: The assurance team complies with the code of ethics for professional accountants issued by the IESBA, which includes independence and other requirements founded on fundamental principles of integrity, objectivity, professional competence and due care, confidentiality and professional behaviour. In reference with International Standard on Quality Control, TUVI maintains a comprehensive system of quality control including documented policies and procedures regarding compliance with ethical requirements, professional standards and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Assurance Conclusion: Based on the defined scope of assurance, TUVI conducted its engagement using risk-based methodologies, data validation techniques, conflict of interest mitigation, and thorough documentation of evidence. As a result of these procedures, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the information subject to this assurance engagement was not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the applicable reporting criteria. TUVI found the information to be reliable with reference to the disclosures made under the GRI 2021 Reporting Standards. Material Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) were verified at a reasonable level of assurance, while the remaining GRI disclosures were verified at a limited level of assurance. This combined assurance approach enhances stakeholder confidence and reinforces transparency and credibility in Neuland' s ESG reporting practices.

Our Assurance Team and Independence

TUVI is an independent, neutral third-party providing sustainability services with qualified environmental and social specialists. TUVI states its independence and impartiality and confirms that there is "no conflict of interest" with regard to this assurance engagement. In the reporting year, TUVI did not work with Neuland on any engagement that could compromise the independence or impartiality of our findings, conclusions, and recommendations.
